Photo Guidelines: State of Indiana Bicentennial Coffee Table Book

• Photos must be taken in Indiana and should reflect in some way one or more of the following aspects of the state:

Natural Environment and Landscape
Buildings and Architecture
Cities and Towns
Farms and Fields
The Hoosier People
Schools and Libraries
Transportation
Business and Commerce
Medicine and Health
Religion and Philanthropy
Government
Media and Communication
Arts, Culture and Entertainment
Sports

• Images must be uploaded in .jpg/.jpeg format with high quality (at least 300 dpi)

• The content of an image must not be altered. Only retouching that conforms to currently accepted standards in the industry is allowed. (In other words, content should not be added to, moved or removed from the original image.)

• Images should not have added borders, backgrounds or other effects.

• All photos should be submitted via the following link:
https://indianabicentennialphotos.tandemvault.com/upload

Once you have uploaded your photo, click on the photo to open a form that will allow you to submit additional information about the photo. Submissions must include the photographer's name and contact information, photo creation date (approximate if not exact), photo location and brief description, and permission for use.

Note: Please ensure that you are using the current version of your web browser when uploading photos.

• Use of photos will not be compensated, but photographers will receive a photo credit in the book.

• Photos will be reviewed by the editorial staff and selected for the book based on content, quality and space availability.

• The deadline for photo submissions is May 15, 2015.