BRAVE

FOR FREEDOM

FALL 2015

BRAVE:

courageous • intrepid • bold • fearless
daring • heroic • plucky • audacious

BRAVE. We at Sak Saum have seen this theme arise over and over this past year in the face of many challenges and difficulties. Many of you have told us the same has been true for you. The truth is, bravery comes at a cost. Only something risky, with the potential of inflicting pain, requires us to be brave in it's wake. When we stop and remember the "why" of what we do at Sak Saum, we find the courage to press on.

The formerly exploited and vulnerable women and men of Sak Saum are an exceptional kind of brave. They have endured unspeakable suffering, yet hold onto hope for a better tomorrow. They are survivors, experiencing the restoration and healing that comes from knowing they are safe, accepted, and loved.

We are excited to show you the beautiful products in this catalog, but it's what the products represent that we love the most. Every single item was made by the brave women and men we work with, who are experiencing restoration, healing, and FREEDOM every day.

Every product represents a rescue and each one matters. Thank you for your support. We are grateful!

about willy...

Founder Ginny Hanson and her husband met Willy selling his hand-crafted chains and pins on a street corner in Manila, Philippines. After buying several pieces, Eric and Ginny struck up a conversation with Willy and connected him to local believers in the area. The sale of his beautiful chains helps to support his family, which includes a son who was born with a critical medical condition. Sak Saum is excited to partner with this wonderful artisan!

MARY'S PAINT

Mary's paint

Mary has been blind since birth. When she was six years old, she fell into the river while washing her clothes. Fortunately, someone saw her and rescued her. Or so she thought. They sold her into slavery. For 20 years, she was an indentured servant who endured unspeakable hardship and abuse. Sak Saum heard about Mary, went through the proper channels, and rescued her.

One day during an art therapy class, we discovered that Mary could paint...beautifully. Today, that skill has been channeled into painting custom fabrics that are made into a variety of products under the label "Mary's Paint." When Mary paints she sings, and it's beautiful, just like her art and her heart.

We are very proud to feature products by Mary.

ABOUT SISTERS PROJECT

For the past year, Sak Saum has been partnering with widowed cloth-weavers in Burkina Faso, West Africa, by incorporating the cloth they weave into Sak Saum products. Through a partner ministry in Burkina Faso, displaced widows are given shelter, education for their children, and taught to weave cloth as a means of income. A portion of the fabric they make is shipped to Cambodia, where the women of Sak Saum produce beautiful and unique products. This Sister to Sister collaboration represents sisters from different continents, working together, to provide for their families with dignity.
