The Race

Since 1922 Monza Circuit has held most of the Italian Grand Prix. Monza is set in the beautiful Parco de Monza - a royal park - steeped in history and tradition where the enthusiastic 'tifosi' set the scene for one of the most dramatic and exciting races of the year.

Monza has become somewhat of a jinx circuit for drivers. For 7 races between 2004 – 2010 no driver was able to win the Italian Grand Prix and the Championship in the same year.

It is a firm favourite with the fans and never fails to disappoint. The Italian Grand Prix really is a must see event of the year!
