If you are the administrator of an Alpha course then this handbook details everything you need to know!

It contains three main sections: planning, preparation and administration during the course.

There are timetables for each section with checklists to help you, and blank forms you may wish to use.

Full of practical help on areas from managing the task force to organising the weekend away, this guide will leave you fully equipped to administer your course.

The Alpha Course is a practical introduction to the Christian faith and is open to anyone. It runs as a series of weekly meetings which each involve an informal meal, a talk and small group discussion. There are fifteen talks covering the basic principles of the Christian faith given over a ten-week period, including a weekend or day away. It is relaxed, non-threatening, low key, friendly and fun. Alpha is for everyone, especially those wanting to investigate Christianity, new Christians, newcomers to the church and those wanting to brush up on the basics. Alpha can work for groups of any size and empowers lay members of the church in effective evangelism. The syllabus and content of the course is contained in the book Questions of Life, by Nicky Gumbel.

The course works best when it is run two or three times a year, with each course ending in a celebration supper or drinks party that is also used as a way of introducing people to the next course. In this way, people who have attended the course are able to immediately involve their friends by inviting them to the following one.

Alpha has also had great impact in a variety of non-church settings such as prisons, schools, universities, workplaces, hospitals, cafés, residential homes, rural areas, inner cities, homeless projects, and even in tribal areas.
The Alpha Course spans denominations and presents the core truths of the Christian faith in a manner that every denomination can get behind.

The Alpha Administrator’s Handbook has been designed to take you through every stage of setting up and running an Alpha Course on a step-by-step basis. Alpha Courses come in many different shapes and sizes. With the size of courses currently ranging from 2 to 2000 guests, the administration involved varies considerably. Undeniably there is work involved in running a course, but effective delegation, team planning and use of resources ensure that the process is manageable and fulfilling.

One thing that has been proven to be a fundamental part of running a successful course is to follow the recipe. Alpha is tried and tested. It has been running for over thirty years. Every aspect of the course is there for an important reason. This handbook is designed to enable you to maximize the impact of your hard work in running an Alpha Course.

The Alpha Administrator is responsible for doing all the work behind the scenes for the course. The administrator should be well organised, outgoing and friendly.

WHAT IS THE ROLE OF AN ALPHA ADMINISTRATOR?

- Registering the Alpha Course and being the key contact with the National Alpha Office alpha.org/alpha/run-alpha-course
- Liaising with the Alpha Adviser or Resource Church alpha.org/alpha/advisers
- Selecting the team
- Assigning hosts, helpers and guests to small groups
- Overseeing the organisation of the Alpha Guest Services, the Alpha Team Training sessions, the Alpha sessions themselves and the Alpha Celebration Supper or Drinks Party
- Delegating tasks where possible – appoint a task force
WHAT’S INVOLVED IN RUNNING AN ALPHA COURSE?

The course is based on ten evenings (or mornings/afternoons). A typical Alpha evening would be:

- 7.00 pm  Supper/light meal
- 7.35 pm  Welcome & notices
- 7.45 pm  Worship (if appropriate)
- 7.55 pm  Talk (live/DVD)
- 8.45 pm  Coffee & small groups
- 9.30 pm  Finish

For daytime Alpha Course timetable, please see page 26.

There is also a day or weekend away that occurs half way through the course (usually between weeks 6 & 7).

You might want to launch the course with some sort of a taster event and / or end the course with a celebration supper party. (See page 58 for more details.)

It is vital to train the team before the course starts. (See page 19 for more details.)
BEFORE YOU START

Here are the first questions you might like to think about in preparing to run a course:

1. How are you going to get people on the course?
   There is a guide to some of the ways of getting people onto a course on page 14.

2. How are you going to cater?
   Each evening starts with food. If it is a daytime course then you may find that it is more appropriate to have coffee and cakes. It does not have to be flashy food, but people from all different backgrounds and cultures have testified to the difference that food makes to the course.

If you are looking for ideas on catering there is an Alpha Cookbook available online at alpha.org/alpha/resource/2011-10-05/alpha-cookbook.

3. How are the talks going to be presented, live or by DVD (if live, who will give them?)
   Some people prefer live talks and some prefer DVDs. The DVDs are ideal to start with, since it allows you to concentrate on all of the other details of setting up and running the course. The Alpha Course DVD has a full-length 45-minute talk for each session as well as a 25-minute Alpha Express talk which can be used by those with limited time. For speakers who wish to give their own talks live, transcripts are available from alpha.org. To order the DVDs, please go to alphashop.org or contact the Alpha Publications Hotline (0845 758 1278 or alpha@marston.co.uk).

4. Who is going to be on the team?
   The different roles involved in running a course are as follows:
   i. Alpha Course Administrator.
   ii. Alpha Course Leader
       This is the person who introduces each week. It is ideally someone who will take some pastoral responsibility for people on the course.
   iii. Task Force
       This is the person or people who help with the behind the scenes activities, whether that is setting up the room, cooking the food, making the coffee or clearing away at the end of the evening.
   iv. Group Hosts & Helpers (Hosts were previously known as group leaders).
       These are the people who host the discussions after the talk and make friends with the guests on your course.
   v. Worship Leader
       You may like to include worship each evening. In general it is best to include worship if you are running a larger course, for twenty-five people or more.

One person can do all of these roles if necessary but the more the work is spread out the more enjoyable it will be for you!
ALPHA RESOURCES

These guidelines refer to a number of resources that have been developed to assist you in running your Alpha Course. To get hold of these please go to alphashop.org, alphaprintshop.org or contact the Alpha Publications Hotline (0845 758 1278 or alpha@marston.co.uk) (or your nearest Alpha stockist) for the latest Alpha Publications brochure.

The Alpha website (alpha.org) serves leaders and potential guests on the course. The leaders area is your main source of information for events, guidelines, news, free downloadable resources, podcasts and much more. It also has information on Alpha Courses running in different contexts, eg: Prisons, Forces, Workplace, etc.

Your nearest Alpha Office is available to answer any other questions that you have regarding the Alpha Course. The addresses of the Alpha Offices in the UK and around the world can be found in Alpha News or by visiting alpha.org. If your country does not have an Alpha Office, you can contact Alpha International in London on +44 845 644 7544 or alphaoffice@alpha.org.

ATTEND AN ALPHA CONFERENCE OR ACCELERATE DAY

The Alpha Conference or regional Accelerate days are excellent preparation to run an Alpha Course. They cover the principles and the practicalities of the Alpha Course, and everything you need to know about how to run an Alpha Course.

If you are unable to attend a conference or Accelerate day before you start your course, it would be helpful to read Questions of Life and Telling Others [both by Nicky Gumbell], to familiarise yourself with both the content and the structure of the course.

For a list of forthcoming Alpha conferences, please visit alpha.org

CONTACT YOUR LOCAL ALPHA ADVISER OR RESOURCE CHURCH

There is an established support network of volunteer Alpha Advisers and Resource Churches to help you to both set up and sustain your Alpha Course. Each Adviser or Resource Church has experience of running Alpha and is there to provide practical advice and support. The contact details of your nearest Alpha Adviser or Resource Church can be found on alpha.org.

Your Alpha Adviser or Resource Church will not only provide you with answers to your general questions about the Alpha Course, but may also be able to inform you of joint Alpha events taking place in the local area, such as joint prayer meetings, joint Alpha Team Training, joint Alpha launch events and joint Alpha Weekends/Days. They can point you in the direction of speakers or venues for various events, and assist in promoting Alpha to your church leadership. More information on events near you can be found on alpha.org.
Setting the Dates

For an organiser, the Alpha Course is 13/14 weeks long, including the two training sessions before the course starts, and the Alpha Celebration Supper at the end.

Some courses hold an Introductory Launch Event or Alpha Supper at the beginning of the first course. This is a good way for people to invite their friends to do the first Alpha Course. This format is exactly the same as an Alpha Celebration Supper Party in terms of content and planning (see page 58).

REGISTER YOUR ALPHA COURSE

If you haven’t yet told us about your course and it is not listed on the official Alpha website, please go to alpha.org/alpha/run-alpha-course or contact your Alpha Office for a registration form.

Registration is free of charge and provides the following advantages:

- Your course will be listed on the official Alpha website, enabling potential guests to contact you
- Alpha International can provide details of your course to enquirers looking for a course in their local area

In the UK, your Alpha Course will be listed on alpha.org as an annual course – running every January and September – until you inform us of any changes or request it to be removed.

To make changes, please email ukalpha@alpha.org or telephone Alpha UK on 0845 644 7544.

SELECT A VENUE

Select a site for the weekly sessions, based on the anticipated size of the course.

Setting - As a general rule, the more relaxed the setting, the better. The home is the best place to start and is generally more palatable for the non-churchgoer. Cafés and coffee shops are also proving to be popular venues. Depending on the size of your course, it may be necessary to move into church buildings. You can create a welcoming atmosphere using lighting, tablecloths, flowers, etc.

Small group space - If you have a number of small groups, make sure that your venue has enough places for the small groups to meet in private.

BOOK THE WEEKEND AWAY

Book a venue for your Alpha Weekend/Day Away as early as possible – up to a year in advance. See the Weekend section (pages 48–57) for more information.

Obtain a written agreement from the venue, specifying everything you have discussed. Bear in mind a deposit may be payable before you have collected money from your guests. The venue, preferably away from the Alpha Course venue, should be somewhere that is accessible, has a choice of activities and is somewhere where guests can relax.

Also look into the option of joining a joint weekend away with other churches. Contact your local Alpha Adviser for more information on this and look on alpha.org.

PUT IN PLACE AN ACCOUNTING SYSTEM FOR ALL INCOME AND EXPENSES OF THE COURSE

The financing of the Alpha Course, and particularly of the Alpha Weekend/Day Away, should be a matter for prayer. Begin developing a budget for the:

- Introductory Alpha Event/Supper (before your first Alpha Course)
- Weekly Alpha sessions
- Alpha Celebration Supper Party (following each Alpha Course)
- Alpha Weekend/Day Away
PLANNING AND PREPARATION

Costs might include:
- Alpha invitations
- postage
- food
- Alpha Course resources, eg: The Alpha Course Manual, Why Jesus?, The Alpha Course on DVD and Alpha Team Training resources

Meet with the church treasurer to learn about church policies concerning handling monies. Check on insurance coverage and make arrangements for coverage for all aspects of the course if needed. For larger courses you may wish to appoint a treasurer.

ORDER ALPHA RESOURCES, RECOMMENDED READING AND BIBLES

- The Alpha Course Team Training DVD (previously known as The Alpha Course Leaders’ Training DVD)
- Alpha Course Team Manuals for your Alpha small group hosts and helpers
- The Alpha Course DVD
- The Alpha Course Manuals for all the hosts, helpers and guests you anticipate attending your course
- Order enough copies of Why Jesus?, Why Christmas? or Why Easter? (depending on the season) to have available during the course, and for the end of both the Alpha Guest Service and the Alpha Celebration Supper

See alphashop.org for a current list of Alpha resources (UK orders only).

For those courses not using the Alpha DVD, the speaker will need a copy of Questions of Life by Nicky Gumbel, which contains the content of the Alpha Course. The Alpha talk transcripts, from The Alpha Course DVD, are also available for download on alpha.org. To order resources, go to alphashop.org or contact the Alpha Publications Hotline (0845 758 1278 or alpha@marston.co.uk) (or your nearest Alpha stockist) for the latest Alpha Publications catalogue.

RECOMMENDED READING & BIBLES

The Alpha Course Manual includes a recommended reading for each week. If possible have the books available on site, as many guests desire further information immediately following the talks and small group discussions.

If you contact your local Christian bookshop they may be able to make arrangements to provide the recommended reading for you on a sale or return basis. This will allow you to take books from the shop to sell at your course venue, and you may return the books you have not sold.

Remember to stock Bibles, particularly on Week 5 when the talk is on the Bible. The New International Version is used on The Alpha Course DVD.
DETERMINE HOW YOU WILL ORGANISE THE WEEKLY SUPPER

Food is a key element of the Alpha Course. It is during the meal that friendships are formed and groups gel together. Do not be daunted by the task – keep it simple, but do aim for the highest standard. Bear in mind what catering facilities you have available to you at the course venue.

Four ways of organising the meal:

1. Form a catering team of church members to provide the food for Alpha every week or on a rota basis. Keep the budget to a minimum, and ask your guests to make a contribution to the cost of the meal by suggesting a small donation (£2–£4) in a bowl.

2. If you have a number of small groups each week, ask one group to make supper. This is often very good fun and is an excellent way of getting to know your group. Again, put a bowl out for contributions for food.

3. If you have only one small group, each week one member of the group could provide the food. You might start by asking all the hosts and helpers and then, after Week 5, you could ask one of the guests who is likely to be happy to do it.

4. As your course grows you may need a caterer. The disadvantage of this is that it often raises the cost of the meal.

The Alpha Course Cookbook, available to download for free from alpha.org/alpha/resource/2011-10-05/alpha-cookbook contains possible recipes for Alpha meals for groups of 12, 30 or 100.

PLAN AHEAD – FUTURE COURSES ...

Working towards eventually running a rolling programme two or three times a year, roughly following the academic terms has proven to be highly effective. This means that guests from the last Alpha Course can invite their friends along to the next course (past Alpha guests are the best people to invite others along!), and ensures that the team is kept fresh, with new helpers joining it from the last Alpha Course.

When setting dates you will need to work back from Christmas to Summer, from Summer to Easter, and from Easter to Christmas. Give yourself as long a break between the courses as time will allow.
ATTRACTION
PEOPLE
TO YOUR COURSE

GAIN SUPPORT FROM YOUR CONGREGATION

Most people attend the Alpha Course because they have been invited by a friend. Your congregation is the best advertisement for the Alpha Course. Informing the congregation about the Alpha Course is vital for it to become an effective evangelistic tool in your church. Some suggestions as to how you might achieve this:

• Run the first Alpha Course for the congregation, so that they feel comfortable inviting their non-church going friends to the next course
• Invite your Alpha Adviser or Resource Church Leader to give a presentation to your congregation about the Alpha Course, or show the Introduction to The Alpha Course DVD
• Circulate copies of Alpha News, which are available in the UK from the Alpha Publications Hotline on 0845 758 1278. Alpha News contains many stories of how Alpha is being used worldwide as well as news from Alpha International. In the UK you can order up to 100 free copies.
• Include Alpha testimonies in your church newsletter that your local Alpha Adviser can provide
• Encourage your congregation to invite their friends and family to the Alpha Launch Event (see page 58) before your first course
• Encourage your congregation to invite their friends and family to the Alpha Guest Service before the course starts
PLAN YOUR ALPHA COURSE INVITATION

Alpha Course invitations can be ordered from alphashop.org or the Alpha Publications Hotline. You can overprint them with the specific details of your church’s Alpha Course and slip in an insert with the specific dates and times of your Alpha Course. You can also electronically personalise these invitations at alphaprintshop.org. Alternatively, you can make your own invitation. Make them as professional looking as possible, as they will be the first impression many guests have of the course. You can download the Alpha logo or the current Alpha invitation graphic from alpha.org. We cannot emphasise enough how valuable churches have found it to join in with the national Alpha Invitation each year, which means ensuring that your advertising matches the nationwide campaign.

Invitations should be available well in advance, so people can register before the course starts so that you can gain approximate figures for small groups and meals.

It is essential that Alpha invitations are readily available at the church information stand at all church services so that potential guests can sign up, and congregation members can invite their friends/family along to the next course.

You also might like to have these invitations available for:

- Alpha Guest Services
- Alpha Celebration Suppers
- Any enquirers or fringe members (e.g., weddings, funerals, Christmas carols, baptisms)

INSERT A FLYER ABOUT ALPHA IN YOUR SERVICE SHEET

Explain that Alpha is a practical introduction to the Christian faith for all those interested in finding out more about it.

Mention that there will be an Alpha Guest Service to which people can bring their friends the following week. Encourage the congregation to pray about who they would like to invite, and to invite them.

ADVERTISE YOUR COURSE INSIDE AND OUTSIDE THE CHURCH

You can use Alpha posters, available from alphashop.org, alphaprintshop.org, or the Alpha Publications Hotline (0845 758 1278), to advertise your course. Although the majority of your guests will come along to the Alpha Course as a result of a personal invitation, it is important that this is against a backdrop of Alpha advertising. If you can, put posters up on your church notice board and around your community, in your church newsletter and display an Alpha banner outside your church. It is helpful when your community becomes familiar with the fact that you run an Alpha Course.

HOLD A GUEST SERVICE

Make the Sunday services evangelistically focussed on the Sunday before the course starts and encourage everyone to bring friends. [See page 21 for more details on this.]
SELECTING THE TEAM

ALPHA SMALL GROUP HOSTS AND HELPERS

The ideal small group ratio is one host/helper to three guests with a maximum of twelve in a group, so you will need four hosts/helpers in each small group of twelve. The group host’s role is to facilitate discussion, to draw conversation out of the small group, rather than ‘teach’ them. Remember to constantly remind your small group hosts that they are to facilitate discussion and not provide a ‘Christian response’ to the guests’ points. The less the host needs to be involved in the discussion, the better!

Pray before putting the groups together, and to bear the following in mind:

- The age range you expect to have. If at all possible, try to keep hosts and helpers of similar ages in the same group
- The ratio of one host/helper to three guests in each small group of with a mix of male and females
The Alpha ‘test’: When selecting your Alpha team you need to ask the question ‘Would I trust my best non-Christian friend with this person?’ If the answer is ‘no’ then they might not be the best choice to be an Alpha small group host or helper.

Helpers are often new Christians and may have just finished the Alpha Course themselves. They are a key part of the small group as they are excited and lack church jargon which may confuse new guests. These helpers also play an important role in building friendships with guests and supporting the hosts.

Start by looking for group hosts and helpers in existing small groups (e.g. cell or home groups) that you may already have running in the church as this will lead to a natural transition for guests from Alpha into the church. People who have previously led church groups need to attend the Alpha training to understand how Alpha group leadership is unique.

Encourage small group hosts and helpers to read Questions of Life and Searching Issues (also by Nicky Gumbel) before the Alpha Course starts. Questions of Life is the Alpha Course in book form. Searching Issues tackles the seven most common issues raised by guests on the Alpha Course. It may therefore be wise if your Alpha group hosts and helpers are familiar with the material before running the course.

COMMITMENT

Being part of an Alpha group as a host or helper is one of the most rewarding things that you can be involved in. It is also a big commitment, and your team need to be aware of this before they agree to participate. Advise the team that they will be expected to commit to:

- 10 weeks of the Alpha Course itself
- 3 team training sessions – 2 before the course and 1 before the Alpha Weekend/Day Away
- The Alpha Weekend/Day Away
- Possible social occasions with their group
- The Alpha Celebration Supper Party at the end of the course
- Keeping in contact with guests when the course is over
- Praying for each group member every day

If the team is not committed to the group then the guests are less likely to be committed to the Alpha Course. It is therefore very important that the team understand the importance of their commitment.

GATHER YOUR TASK FORCE
This is the group of people who you will ask to do all the practical work on an Alpha evening. The task force checklist on page 27 has a list of tasks they might do. Even if you are running a course in your own home, you will probably find it worthwhile having one or two people to help with the practical aspects of the course.

If you have quite a large task force you might like to put someone with a pastoral heart to lead them as a group. There is normally time during an Alpha evening to hold a small group session for the task force. This can be enormously encouraging to them. You may also like to hold a training session the week before Alpha starts, to cover all of the practical tasks and to encourage them in their role of serving.

ALLOCATE PEOPLE TO BE ‘WELCOMERS’ AND ‘RUNNERS’ FOR THE FIRST ALPHA EVENING
If you have a larger course it’s a good idea to have a few smiley, chatty, friendly people available to welcome guests at the entrance, show them where to park, and to direct them to the venue. People should feel at home.

Depending on the size of your course, you may find that you need ‘runners’ on the first night of your Alpha Course to take guests from the door to their small group. These runners can be small-group helpers. Runners should talk to the guests and make them feel at ease, but should try not to talk about Christianity as this may seem overwhelming to the guests.

WORSHIP ON AN ALPHA COURSE
One of the aims of Alpha is to model church, so it is great to be able to include worship. Often the people who find the worship most difficult at the start of the course can find it the more enjoyable part of the evening by the end. Sung worship is only recommended if your course is over twenty-five people. Delegate your worship leadership well in advance.

Some Alpha Courses include worship from week 1. Other wait until weeks 3, 4 or 5. If you are planning on having worship at the Alpha Day/Weekend it is important to include worship on Alpha evenings beforehand.

If you don’t have live worship, then at some point on the course it might be an idea to play a worship CD, even in the background, so that guests get used to hearing the songs. Further advice about using worship on Alpha can be found on the website at alpha.org/alpha/worship.
[Previously known as Alpha Leaders’ Training]

The Alpha Team Training sessions (‘Leading Small Groups’, ‘Pastoral Care’ and ‘Prayer Ministry on Alpha’) should be held before every Alpha Course, and all team members should attend these sessions. Hosting an Alpha small group is often very different from other Christian groups that meet, and this training is designed to give guidelines on how to host an Alpha small group. This has a significant impact not only in unifying the team, but in ensuring that the small groups, the pastoral care and the prayer ministry run smoothly. Encourage those who have hosted groups and attended the training before to come along to share their experience with the newer hosts and helpers. It would be good to encourage the team to pray in their small groups before they go home.

Do use first two sessions as an opportunity to encourage the group hosts and helpers to bring friends, family, neighbours and work colleagues to the course.

Ensure that all relevant contact details are circulated at the first session.

If a member of the team is unable to attend any of the training sessions, they should borrow the DVD.

Remember, the first two training sessions are held before the course starts, and the third session just before the Weekend/Day Away.

Please refer back to page 10 – ‘Planning and Preparation’ – for the recommended timing of the three training sessions.

HOLD THE ALPHA
GUEST SERVICE
ON THE SUNDAY BEFORE ALPHA STARTS

The Alpha Guest Service is one of the most significant ways of encouraging people to attend your Alpha Course. It should be broadly similar to your usual service, with the following differences:

• The service is particularly focused on the guests your congregation have brought along

• During the service there is a brief explanation of what the Alpha Course is and when the next course will be running. Before the sermon you might like to ask one or two people who have just completed a course to give their testimonies in an interview style, or ask your Alpha Adviser if they can recommend someone to do this. The aim of this is to encourage them to talk about Jesus, not the Alpha Course. You could ask them two or three of the following questions:
  - Were you a churchgoer before you did the Alpha Course?
  - How did you find out about the Alpha Course?
  - What was the Alpha Course like?
  - Tell us what happened to you on the course?
  - What difference has Jesus made to your life?
  - What would you say to someone who has not yet done the Alpha Course?

• The sermon should present the gospel clearly

You will need to:

• Give out Alpha Course invitations with your service sheets
• Be available to answer questions at the end of the guest service
• Have free copies of Why Jesus? available to distribute at the end of the service for any guests

MAKE A FINAL ESTIMATE OF THE NUMBER OF EXPECTED GUESTS FOR CATERING

Bear in mind that some people who have not registered for the course may turn up on the first night, and that some who have registered will not turn up.

A TYPICAL EVENING ALPHA

Alpha Courses run in a wide variety of locations, and at different times of the day. Many courses run on a particular weekday evening over a ten week period.

As a guide, an evening Alpha Course would roughly follow the following timetable (please do adapt it to your local needs):

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Time</th>
<th>Activity</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>6.15 pm</td>
<td>Prayer/administration meeting for hosts and helpers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>(wk 1, then 6.30 pm)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>- Prayer meeting (20 minutes)</td>
</tr>
<tr>

A TYPICAL DAYTIME ALPHA

GENERAL INFORMATION

CHILDCARE
Many daytime Alpha Courses are attended by young mothers, and it may therefore be wise to provide a crèche for the children of your guests.

SUGGESTED TIMETABLE

9.30 am  Prayer and administration meeting
10.00 am  Coffee and light food
10.30 am  Notices
10.35 am  Worship
10.45 am  Talk
11.30 am  Small groups
12.15 pm  Finish

SETTING THE DATES
When setting the dates for your daytime Alpha Course, you may want to take the school half-term into account.

PRAYER/ADMINISTRATION MEETING
This meeting is for all small group hosts and helpers and should be held before Alpha. Each week there may be different bits of admin that the groups will need to do, there are some suggestions included in the weekly checklists below.

It is really important that the team is united. You will find that the relationships within the team act as an amazing witness to the guests on the course. It cannot be emphasised enough how important it is to make weekly prayer a main feature in the plans.
THE WELCOME

When people arrive they are often tired and distracted. Be clear that the ethos of the evening in particular is to make people feel at home and welcome.

The welcome slot could include:

• A brief summary of the previous week/s - it can be helpful to remind the guests (and new guests arriving) of where you are within the course

• Recommended reading and Alpha live [htb.org.uk] - it is good to put the course in a wider context, by advertising books that are unrelated to Alpha. This highlights the fact that when they come to Alpha, they are also coming to the historic and worldwide Christian church

• Notices: avoid all church related notices, as they may shift the guests’ focus away from Alpha, and dampen the evening. This slot can be very useful for encouraging guests to attend both the Weekend and the Celebration Supper

• Humour/a joke – If possible, try to include a joke. Laughter helps the guests relax after a stressful day, and immediately captures their attention

WEEKLY TASK FORCE CHECKLIST

Each week there are a number of things that need to be done to ensure the smooth running of the Alpha evening:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Task</th>
<th>DONE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Put up other relevant signs around the venue [toilets, etc]</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Make sure there are enough Bibles, Alpha Course Manuals and Why Jesus? booklets available for each group</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Make sure the room temperature is comfortable with warm lighting</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Direct guests to park their cars</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>If using a DVD, set up the DVD player and monitor</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>For live speakers, make sure the microphone and stand are in place and tested for the speaker</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Set up the bookstall and make sure the recommended books for that session are available</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Place baskets on each serving table to collect money to cover the weekly suppers. If you are suggesting a specific contribution (eg, £3), make a small sign to that effect</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Help prepare and serve food and drink during the supper and coffee break</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Be available to convert the supper area into small group meeting areas if necessary</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Clear up the main venue and the small group meeting areas at the end of the session</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
WEEK 1 – WHO IS JESUS?

The first session is a key evening, and making the best possible first impression ensures that people will come back for the second night. Do however be aware that there will always be unforeseen circumstances.
ADDITIONAL PREPARATION:

1. Prepare lists for the registration team
For larger courses an alphabetical list of pre-registered guests and their assigned groups and a breakdown of the small groups listing the average age and how many men and women has proved very useful in allocating unregistered guests who turn up on the night to a small group. Remember that some pre-registered guests may not attend, but others, who have not pre-registered, may arrive on the night.

2. Name badges
Name badges are useful for the first three weeks whilst everyone gets to know each other. Simply use sheets of stickers with a marker pen.

3. Supply Alpha Course Manuals to all the guests, hosts and helpers
Give these manuals to the guests (see the Alpha Copyright Statement explained, page 64).

PRAYER/ADMINISTRATION MEETING

FIRST NIGHT WELCOMING TIPS

- Remember that the first night is the most important and the most difficult. It becomes easier to lead as the weeks go on and people become friends. On previous Alpha Courses the first evening has proved to be the toughest night to lead, as guests can be deeply suspicious. It does get easier as the weeks progress.

However, leading the first night of Alpha can be quite daunting

- Try and get on first name terms as quickly as possible – have the name badges ready
- Spread out and not sit together – particularly small group hosts and helpers
- Ensure that the guests have a good view of the speaker during the talk
- Accompany people when they collect supper
- Smile!

NOTICES

- Review the location of the small groups, their size and the arrangements for getting coffee
- Stand up when people enter their group, and move towards them to greet them and make introductions
- Remember the following in the small groups:
  - Name Game, Desert Island Game, ‘How did you come to be here?’
  - Discussion questions. ‘If there is a God and you could ask one question and be sure of getting an answer, what would you ask?’ ‘What do you think or feel about the content/issues raised in tonight’s talk?’
- Get to supper early – people tend to arrive early on week 1
WEEK 2 – WHY DID JESUS DIE?
ADDITIONAL PREPARATION

Prepare name labels and group lists, including contact details of each group member, for all small group hosts and helpers.

PRAYER/ADMINISTRATION MEETING

NOTICES

Hosts and helpers should be advised to:

- Expect some new guests. New guests should be added to groups that were low in numbers the previous week, and some new groups may start.
- Have their group members check the address list and add their email addresses.
- Mention the Alpha Weekend Away to their group.

TEAM TRAINING

Instruct the team to:

- Keep an eye out for new guests, and remember to introduce the new people in their small groups.
- Small group discussions – A reminder: For the first three weeks the discussion could go in any direction and the likelihood is that hot topics such as suffering and religion will arise. Group hosts and helpers should not have any agenda as to how the discussions should run, and should not ask any loaded questions. Guests’ views should be affirmed and opinions should be validated. To get discussions running, a good opening question is ‘What did you think of the content of the talk?’ The book Searching Issues can be useful when faced with challenging topics.
- Give out the dates and cost for the weekend to members of their group.
WEEK 3
– HOW CAN WE HAVE FAITH?
ADDITIONAL PREPARATION

- Make the Weekend/Day Away booking form available (see sample, page 64). Ensure you let the small group hosts know that no one should be prevented from coming on an Alpha Weekend/Day Away for financial reasons. Make bursaries available to those who cannot afford it, and recoup the money during the collection on the Weekend/Day Away. Continue to offer this form to guests until you go on the Alpha Weekend/Day Away, to allow undecided guests to sign up at the last minute.

- Provide a money envelope for group hosts to collect payment for the weekend. Mark on it to whom cheques should be made payable, and continue to distribute the envelopes to team members until you go on the Alpha Weekend/Day Away.
- Start planning the Alpha Weekend/Day Away – see page 50

TEAM TRAINING

The team should be instructed to:

- Keep an eye out for any new guests
- Draw any vocal Christians in your group aside and tactfully ask them to be quieter during the discussion, to help draw out the other non-Christian guests. This could be done during the meal
- Be flexible on the direction of the group discussion
- Consider beginning the small group discussion with: ‘What do people feel about the idea of having a relationship with God?’
- Begin chatting to people over supper to see who might be able to attend the weekend. Start with the keenest person, as this fills others with confidence that they will not be the only ones attending
- Let guests know the cost of the weekend, and that bursaries will be available

PRAYER/ADMINISTRATION MEETING

NOTICES

Hosts and helpers should be instructed to:

- Be aware that this is the last week for name badges
- Pass on the dates and the cost of the weekend to their group members
- Let guests know the childcare provisions for the weekend
- Remember the date of the third training session
WEEK 4 – WHY AND HOW SHOULD I PRAY?
ADDITIONAL PREPARATION

- Prepare Weekend/Day Away booking form and money envelope

PRAYER/ADMINISTRATION MEETING

NOTICES

Hosts and helpers should be advised to:

- Continue taking registrations for the weekend, and add any additional names to their list of attendees
- Promote the weekend/day, and encourage attendance and payment tonight
- Explain the weekend/day transport arrangements to guests in their group
- Attend the 'Prayer Ministry on Alpha' training session, on [give date]

TEAM TRAINING

The team should be instructed to:

- Pay their costs for the weekend as soon as possible
- Bear in mind that the talk this evening is on prayer, and to pitch the questions low. Two questions that could be asked are:
  - Has anybody here ever tried praying?
  - How did you get on?
- Draw out contributions from guests, who consider themselves atheists, of times that they tried to pray. Hearing how people who are not Christians pray can be fascinating for guests
WEEK 5 – WHY AND HOW SHOULD I READ THE BIBLE?
ADDITIONAL PREPARATION

- Prepare Alpha Celebration Supper Party Invitations. On Week 7 of the course you will need to start distributing invitations to the Alpha Celebration Supper that takes place at the end of the course. Ideally, you should start designing and preparing your invitations now.
- Ensure the bookstall has plenty of Bibles for sale
- Weekend/Day Away booking form and money envelope

FEEDBACK
Ask for feedback from the groups on how the course is going.

NOTICES
Hosts and helpers should be advised to:

- Start confirming numbers for the weekend/day and asking guests to pay
- Collect names of people attending the weekend/day
- Explain methods of payment available to guests eg. cheques, cash or credit cards
- Give transport details to the guests
- Remember to attend the ‘Prayer Ministry on Alpha’ training session

TEAM TRAINING

The team should be advised to:

- Encourage guests to attend, and pay for, the weekend/day away. It is important to know numbers at this stage. The best way to do this is for the group hosts to lead by example and to pull out a cheque book and fill in the payment slip in front of the group
- Remember that this evening’s talk is on the Bible, and therefore to pitch the discussion questions low. If they are pitched too high there may not be a response. After the talk, the temptation is to get very enthusiastic and ask something like ‘Have any of you found it really exciting when God speaks to you through the Bible?’ This will most likely be met with complete silence!
- Consider asking the following questions:
  - Has anyone ever tried reading the Bible?
  - Did you find it really boring?
- For guests who are interested in reading the Bible, you can recommend the book, 30 Days by Nicky Gumbel (visit alphashop.org). For guests who are ready for more of a challenge, you can recommend The Bible in One Year. See alpha.org/alpha/read-bible for more details.
ADDITIONAL PREPARATION
Prepare handouts travel directions to help guest prepare for the Alpha Weekend/Day Away and money envelope.

PRAYER/ADMINISTRATION MEETING
NOTICES
Hosts and helpers should be instructed to:
• Collect final payment from everybody attending the Weekend/Day
• Mention arrangements for special diets, and collect relevant numbers
• Announce transport details
• Take a copy of the group address list, in case they need to contact latecomers

TEAM TRAINING
The team should be advised to:
• Avoid asking the question: ‘Has anyone ever sensed God guiding them?’ There may be some difficult responses to this. If they ask the question ‘Has anyone had a sense in the last few weeks that God has been guiding them?’ they are more likely to get a useful response
• Remember to discuss tongues in the small group on the Saturday morning of the Weekend/Day Away [1 Corinthians 12]. This could be introduced as ‘Has anyone had any experience of speaking in tongues?’ It is helpful later in the day if the topic has already been introduced. Make sure you mention that they don’t need to speak in tongues. There aren’t first or second class Christians!
• Begin to offer to pray for group members immediately after the speaker concludes at the 5 pm ministry slot on the Weekend/Day
WEEK 7 - HOW CAN I RESIST EVIL?
ADDITIONAL PREPARATION

- Distribute Alpha Celebration Supper Invitations around the small groups. Group hosts should encourage the guests and helpers in their group to think about who they would like to invite to the Alpha Celebration Supper. Let the small group hosts know how much it will cost per head.

- Finalise a menu for the Alpha Celebration Supper – see page 58 for further details. Aim to make the meal a special and memorable evening for guests!

FEEDBACK

Get feedback from the weekend.

NOTICES

Hosts and helpers should be instructed to give out the dates of the Alpha Celebration Supper. Encourage the group to attend, and to bring friends and family. Advertising for the supper builds from week 7 to week 10.

TEAM TRAINING

The team should be instructed to:

- Begin the discussion by hearing feedback from the weekend, and start with someone they know has had a positive experience. Listen to guests who may have had a negative experience, but it is ideal to start and finish with an encouraging story from the weekend.

- Naturally lead any conversation arising from the talk ‘How Can I Resist Evil?’ onto a discussion about prayer.
WEEK 8 – WHY AND HOW SHOULD I TELL OTHERS?
ADDITIONAL PREPARATION

- Prepare the following handouts: Hosts’ Questionnaires, Alpha Celebration Supper money envelope, Supper Form

PRAYER/ADMINISTRATION MEETING

NOTICES

Hosts and helpers should be instructed to:

- Give reminders of the date[s] of the Alpha Celebration Supper, and mark on their forms in their packs how many group members will be attending
- Distribute supper invites to guests. In the admin packs there are envelopes to collect money for the supper, and the cost to guests is [£X] a head

TEAM TRAINING

The team should be instructed to:

- Obtain numbers for the suppers by the end of this evening
- Begin this week’s discussion with the question: ‘Has anyone told anybody that they’re doing the Alpha Course?’ That can then be followed up with: ‘How did that person react?’
- Start to think about praying together towards the end of the small group time. Ideally all of the group should pray tonight – silent prayers are fine
WEEK 9
– DOES GOD HEAL TODAY?
ADDITIONAL PREPARATION

- Alpha Celebration Supper form and money envelope
- Guest questionnaires. These are essential to improving your next course, assisting those who will run a course after you and can also help with finding guests to interview at the Alpha Supper (see the sample questionnaire on pages 62–63)

PRAYER / ADMINISTRATION MEETING

NOTICES

Hosts and helpers should be advised to:
- Remind guests of the date of the Alpha Celebration Supper. The following must be obtained:
  - Numbers attending
  - Money
  - Helpers for the evening
  - Use the envelope in the admin pack to collect money for the supper
  - Ensure that guests fill out their questionnaires
  - Group hosts should flag up anyone in their group who would be a good candidate to give their testimony. There is no need to make the guest aware of this. When deciding what makes a good testimony, hosts can ask themselves – if you were bringing a friend to the supper, would you want them to hear this person? The person doesn’t need to have become a Christian on Alpha
  - Think about their guests’ options for the following term. They may wish to come back to help on the next Alpha Course, or join a pastorate/home group. All team members should be made aware of these opportunities. It is important that any guest who completes the course continues to be pastored and becomes fully integrated into the church. Existing church structures can be used to determine how to go about providing a follow-up programme

TEAM TRAINING

The team should be instructed to:
- Obtain final numbers for the Alpha Celebration Supper
- If applicable, remember to bring a bottle of wine to the Supper
- Bring as many guests as they like without paying, or contribute if able
- Begin the group discussion by talking about the supper, but pray as soon as possible. It is important to avoid getting bogged down in a theological discussion – activities should be kept on a practical level this week
- Ensure adequate time is left for the praying
- Look for those who want to receive prayer, and also those who wish to pray for others. The desire for prayer may be visible in someone’s face. Some guests may wish to pray for a good friend they have made during the course. Hosts and helpers should keep an eye out for this, and be encouraging
WEEK 10 – WHAT ABOUT THE CHURCH?
ADDITIONAL PREPARATION

If you haven’t already done so, prepare the following handouts: Hosts and Guest questionnaire [see papers 62–63], Celebration Supper Invitations, Alpha Celebration Supper form and money envelope.

FOLLOW UP AFTER WEEK TEN

• After the session, obtain final numbers for the Alpha Celebration Supper
• Write thank you letters to the small group hosts, helpers, and the task force team to thank them for all their hard work.

PRAYER / ADMINISTRATION MEETING

NOTICES

Hosts and helpers should be advised to:

• Volunteer to help with the Alpha Celebration Supper, if possible
• Return all hosts’ questionnaires to the Alpha Administrator
• Feel free to photocopy guest address lists and hand out to the group, permission permitting
• Remember to organise a social event for the group, to take place after the course has finished

TEAM TRAINING

The team should be instructed to:

• Obtain final numbers for the supper, and encourage guests who have not yet paid
• Fix a date for a group reunion
• Think about potential helpers for the next course. Particularly consider guests who were non-Christians at the start of the course, even if they are not yet Christians
• Consider asking the following questions this evening:
  - How have you got on during the course? [Pick an open and positive person to start.]
  - What would you like to do now? [Join a pastorate/home group? Be involved in the next Alpha Course? The host needs to make suggestions.]
  - Is there anything anyone would like to pray about? [If there are no prayer requests, then close in giving thanks – otherwise, end in prayer.]
THE ALPHA WEEKEND/DAY AWAY
INTRODUCING THE WEEKEND AWAY/AWAY DAY

It is important to have planned your Alpha Weekend/Day Away before your Alpha Course starts, and to start advertising it to your guests soon after the course starts. Start as early as Week 2. At this early stage we simply mention dates, and emphasise what an important part of the course it is.

You can mention the Weekend/Day Away more in Week 3, and forms can be handed out from this point. During the fourth session, you should mention that there are bursaries available. Experience has shown that the Weekend/Day Away is a time when lots of friendships gel in the small groups.

On Week 5, you should continue to talk about the Weekend.

Important elements of the trip which should be emphasised to the guests are:

- Transport
- Beautiful location
- Important subject matter (the Holy Spirit)

This ensures a continual sense of build up to the Weekend or Day Away. To help persuade the guests to attend the weekend, it can be helpful for the small group hosts to first approach the most enthusiastic person in the group, and ask if they will be coming. Once they confirm they will attend you will find that others tend to follow.

By Week 6, talk of the Weekend should now be reduced, as at this stage there are only three days to go. Guests can be given brief encouragement to attend though over selling the event at this stage could seem a bit desperate!
PLANNING YOUR AWAY DAY/WEEKEND
ALPHA WEEKEND VS. ALPHA DAY

The first decision you need to make is whether or not you plan to hold an Alpha Weekend or an Alpha Day. It is possible to cover the material in a single day, and Alpha Days are a wonderful blessing to those that attend them. However, the weekend away has the advantage of providing a relaxed environment for a prolonged period of time. People travel together, take walks together, and generally spend relaxing time in each other’s company. It is a great way of breaking down barriers, and facilitating some real opportunities for both bonding and spiritual growth.

You will need to decide what you are able to do with the resources you have. One option may be to join with local churches.

THE VENUE

Book your venue as far in advance as possible. The better venues are always booked up early. Make sure that the venue has facilities for people to relax, eg: is in the countryside, is by the sea or has sports facilities, etc.

It is always a good idea to team up with other churches in your area and to organise a weekend/day together. Not only can this ease the administrative burden on a single church, but it may be more cost effective and it is always more fun!

You may already know of a suitable venue for your Alpha Weekend/Day Away. However, if you need some advice do consult:

- Your local Alpha Adviser or Resource Church

If you are running a course in the UK you can also use:

- The UK Christian Handbook
- CCI Venue finding site [www.cci.org.uk or 01908 641641] - this is an organisation set up to find Christian retreat venues for groups. [Sadly, they cannot help for venues for the Alpha Day Away.]

THE COST

Try to keep the cost of the weekend as low as possible. Never let money be an issue which prevents someone from attending the Alpha Weekend/Day Away.

Some will not be able to pay but others will be able to pay more. Ask people to contribute what they can afford – for example, what they would spend in their home town over a weekend.

On the Sunday morning of the weekend you may want to take a collection, letting them know what the financial short-fall is. Churches have found that God often honours this principle.
SATURDAY AFTERNOON
On Saturday afternoon you might like to organise a walk or a football match for guests and helpers. Bear this in mind when selecting a venue for your Alpha Weekend/Day Away, and make full use of any facilities available to you. Arrange for someone to organise sports or other events during the free time.

SATURDAY NIGHT ENTERTAINMENT
After the talk on the Saturday evening of the Alpha Weekend it is good to give guests an opportunity to relax.

If you have a small number on your weekend you might like to play a game (eg, Pictionary) which can be played by any age group.

If you have larger numbers on your Alpha Weekend you might prefer to have a cabaret-style entertainment evening. The aim of this is to have ‘good clean fun’ and you may find some very talented people on your course!

Ask someone to be in charge of co-ordinating the entertainment. They may be able to act as host for the evening and introduce each act.

FAMILIES
As churches we want to encourage family life. Invite family members of those on the course to come on the Alpha Weekend. They do not have to come to talks and are welcome to join in the entertainments and meals.

SPEAKERS
If you would like someone to lead your Alpha Weekend/Day Away, do contact your local Alpha Adviser or Resource Church (alpha.org). They may be able to suggest a guest speaker, or be able to invite you along to an Open Alpha Weekend/Day.

TIMING
The ideal time for the Alpha Weekend/Day Away is between Weeks 6 and 7 of the course. It should always fall between Week 5 and Week 8. It is always preferable to have the talk ‘How Can I Resist Evil?’ following the Alpha Weekend. If necessary, switch around the talks on Evil and Guidance.

You can begin to circulate forms for people to sign up for the weekend from Week 3 – the earlier it is written in people’s diaries, the better.

You will probably have to consider having children’s workers available for the weekend. Remember to ensure that any legal requirements regarding childcare are met. Select someone to organise the childcare for the weekend.
VENUE LIAISON
It is important to liaise with the venue about:
• Sheets, towels, soap
• Communion wine (establish who will provide it)
• Sound and recording equipment, overhead projector
• Bookshop – check that they are happy for you to take your own stock
• Special diets and disability access
• Sports facilities
• Cots and early meals for small children
• Childcare facilities
• A map and directions to the venue which you can reproduce for the guests
• A blank bedroom plan
• The weekend/day schedule
• Venue specific criteria, ie: no alcohol allowed, etc?

BEDROOM PLAN
From the information gathered from the Weekend booking form, start working on a bedroom plan for the guests.
• Be careful about unmarried couples. Make it clear to them, in a sensitive manner, that unmarried couples cannot share a room. If they are unhappy about this, suggest that they book alternative accommodation nearby
• Remember to put single parents somewhere central
• Try to keep members of each small group in adjacent bedrooms
• Leave this until the last minute to allow for late changes
• If there are shared bathrooms make sure they are single sex bathrooms

TRANSPORT
Encourage people to arrange their own lifts/transport within the small groups. You may want to provide a coach if you have a large course.

IS THERE MORE TO LIFE THAN THIS?

The Alpha Celebration Supper or Launch Event provides an easy way to invite their friends and family to see what Alpha is all about. Those invited to this supper often become guests on the next course, so it is important to have Alpha invitations and free copies of Why Jesus?, Why Christmas? or Why Easter? available at the end.

Do your best to provide good food and create a good atmosphere. Flowers, candles and tablecloths can make a big difference and the general aim is to make the evening seem like a special evening out.
A suggested timetable for the Celebration Supper is as follows:

7.15 pm
Guests arrive and food/drinks or canapes are served
It is advised not to say grace or have a formal opening – make the evening as relaxing as possible. Have a live jazz band or alternatively have jazz or classical music in the background.

8.15 pm
Welcome and thank you
This is important, not just because we want to thank the people who have made the evening possible (waiters/waitresses, the caterers, etc) - they are helping from a servant heart - but to allow the guests to express their appreciation.

8.20pm
Testimonies
The speaker leads into the testimonies ['I’d love to introduce you to one or two people who’ve done the last Alpha Course']. The less warning the testimony guests have the better. Nicky Gumbel suggests the speaker goes around meeting potential testimony guests during the supper and asking them then to do their testimony. If people have too much warning they come with a prepared speech, and ideally it should be spontaneous. Include someone that has done the course and not become a Christian, but has nonetheless enjoyed the course. This is the most powerful person from the point of view of a guest.

8.35pm
Talk or DVD
Is There More to Life Than This?
Alternative option is Explore DVD available from alphashop.org or contact the Alpha Publications Hotline (0845 758 1278 or alpha@marston.co.uk).

9.00pm
Coffee
Give out copies of Why Jesus?, Why Christmas? or Why Easter? and invitations to the next Alpha Course.

9.30pm
Finish
You will need to find a balance between allowing people to chat as long as they want to, and ensuring that the task force is not kept too late.
The following will need to be done:

CHECKLIST

WHAT HAPPENS AFTER ALPHA?

Before you start your course, you may want to think about how you will encourage those who have completed the course to develop their faith. This can be done in a number of ways. You may like to integrate those completing the course into existing home groups, or choose to establish new ones. Alternatively, you might like to run a follow-up course based upon the Alpha model. There are many options that your local Alpha Adviser or Resource Church leader will be happy to talk through with you.

All of these follow-up courses are available as books with study guides, audio recordings and manuals.

The Jesus Lifestyle Series 1, 2 and 3 – a series of eighteen talks over three DVDs (each with accompanying guest manuals) based on the teachings of Jesus in the Sermon on the Mount. Series 1 includes topics such as, ‘How to find the secret of happiness’ and ‘How to change the world around you’, as well as the Old Testament, sex, divorce and anger. Series 2 covers subjects including, ‘How to live and act with integrity’ and ‘How to handle difficult people’. Series 3 features topics such as worry, criticism, false prophets and building a secure future. This is an ideal resource for small groups to use after Alpha.

_A Life Worth Living_ – a nine-session course based on Philippians. This course is ideal for new Christians, and is available on DVD with an accompanying guest manual.

_Searching Issues_ – the seven issues most often raised on Alpha including suffering, other religions and New Age beliefs.

_The Heart of Revival_ – ten Bible studies based on Isaiah 40–66, drawing out important truths for today.

_God at Work_ is a course designed for small or mid-sized groups, which can be run in either church groups or workplace fellowships. The course aims to equip people to find purpose in every aspect of their working life and to empower them to live this out with the utmost integrity. It is based on Ken Costa’s book _God at Work_ and consists of six sessions.

These can be obtained from alphashop.org or the Alpha Publications Hotline, 0845 758 1278.

ALPHA COPYRIGHT STATEMENT

The Directors of Alpha International write:

'We have always been keen to allow individuals who are running an Alpha International Course the flexibility to adapt it where it was felt necessary to allow for locally felt needs and where there was the desire to retain the essential elements, nature and identity of the course. Experience has shown though that this has been misunderstood and the resulting loss of integrity in some courses has given rise to considerable confusion. Now that Alpha International resources and publications are being used all around the world we have reluctantly had to draw up a copyright statement more tightly in order to preserve confidence and quality control. We are sure you will understand.'

1) With the exception of books (in which the author is stated to hold the copyright), all Alpha International resources, including written material, audio visual resources, graphics and software are copyright to Alpha International. Alpha International resources cover a wide range of ministries including the Alpha Course and post-Alpha resources, The Marriage Course and Relationship Central, Worship Central, St Paul’s Theological Centre, and God at Work.

2) In no circumstances may any part of any Alpha International publication be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying, recording, or any information storage or retrieval system without permission in writing from the copyright holder or that holder’s agent.

3) Use of Alpha International publications is permitted only when in conjunction with the running or promotion of Alpha International courses. Resale, or the obtaining of payment in any other connection with any Alpha International publication is not permitted.

4) Alpha International asks that the name of any Alpha International course, or names similar to it should not be used in connection with any other Christian course. This request is made in order to:
   • avoid confusion caused by different courses having similar titles
   • ensure the uniformity and integrity of the Alpha Course
   • Maintain confidence in courses listed on the Alpha Course Directory
5) Alpha International accepts that minor adaptations to Alpha International courses may occasionally be desirable. These should only concern the length of the talks or the number of sessions. In each case the essential character of the course must be retained.

If an Alpha International course is adapted the person responsible must:

- only use such a course in their own church or parish
- not allow such a course to be used elsewhere
- not publish or promote such a course.

This statement supersedes all previous statements relating to copyright in any Alpha International resources.

Revised April 2010
THE ALPHA COPYRIGHT STATEMENT EXPLAINED

Unfortunately it has been necessary for us to write a copyright statement. Below are some frequently asked questions concerning the copyright of Alpha resources and the answers to those questions. Please read the Alpha Copyright Statement very carefully as this will answer many questions. The Alpha copyright will always remain with Alpha International, so if you encounter an issue or query outside the boundaries of the answers provided, you should always refer the query to Alpha International Publications at Holy Trinity Brompton.

Can I download the Alpha logo and use it for brochures, newsletters, invitations, etc?
Yes. This is on the understanding that it is used solely for the promotion of your particular Alpha Course, and is not for resale in any way.

Can I make a single/several duplicate copies of the DVD/audio tapes for the use of our home groups?
No. Alpha resources should only be used in conjunction with the running or promotion of an Alpha Course, no one, whether they are a guest or a host, should be exposed to sub-standard copies.

Can I photocopy all or part of the manuals?
No. All aspects of the Alpha Course revolve around providing guests with the best possible treatment (food, comfort, welcome, etc), and the quality of the resources should reflect this attitude. It is worth mentioning that it is actually very difficult to photocopy the course manual for less than £1.50, or the equivalent price in your country. Also many bookshops would give a discount on larger orders.

There may be the odd exception to the rule. Please liaise with Alpha International for more information.
THE ALPHA COURSE
Administrator’s Handbook

If you are the administrator of an Alpha course then this handbook details everything you need to know!

It contains three main sections: planning, preparation and administration during the course.

There are timetables for each section with checklists to help you, and blank forms you may wish to use.

Full of practical help on areas from managing the task force to organising the weekend away, this guide will leave you fully equipped to administer your course.
