Chicago-area rising star Amanda Brommel and music producer Robert Mackey to be featured on WGN Radio's Bill & Wendy Show

Suburban Chicago-based 14 year old pop artist Amanda Brommel and her music producer Robert Mackey will be live guests on The Bill & Wendy Show on WGN radio – Tuesday, November 18th at 4:30pm.

Her first new song, “Through All My Tears” is released on Big Chance Records. Her debut single was co-written and produced by songwriter / producer and Grammy member Robert Mackey of the international rock band AVM. The track was recorded at SONGWERKS studios in the Chicago suburb of Addison, Illinois. The digital song is available on iTunes along with her official music video on YouTube.

Brommel was discovered at an Almost Home Foundation talent show (benefiting homeless pets) at age 12. “She has a one in a million voice that sounds mature beyond her years and she writes her own lyrics”, says 25 year music veteran and co-writer Robert Mackey, who has co-written with Grammy Award winning Jim Peterik (Eye Of The Tiger, Hold On Loosely) and late country music hall-of-famer, Joe South (Hush, Rose Garden). Mackey has collaborated with Grammy Award mixing legend, Dave Pensado (Michael Jackson, Kelly Clarkson, Elton John, Pink) in Los Angeles. He just finished mixing & mastering the MIDWAVE remixes of “I Never Wear White” by Suzanne Vega and “I Won’t Let You Down” by OK Go.

“Her writing is very contemporary and her lyrics are very relatable. In a few years at most people worldwide will know her voice and name”, says Mackey.
