Sheffield Cathedral wins top Heritage Award

We are delighted that Sheffield Cathedral has been awarded the prestigious Sandford Award for Heritage Education 2015. This is an independently judged, quality assured assessment of education programmes at heritage sites, museums, and collections across Britain.

Past winners include Hampton Court Palace, Edinburgh Castle, Beamish, York Castle Museum and Blenheim Palace, so winning this award places Sheffield Cathedral's Heritage Learning on a par with these major heritage sites.

With Heritage Lottery Funding support as part of the Gateway Project, we now run a rich and varied programme of formal and informal heritage learning opportunities, welcoming and engaging many new visitors to the cathedral. This includes visits for school groups, holiday activities for children and families, Heritage Open Days, talks, tours and historical and cultural events. The programme is led by Janet Ridler, our Heritage Learning Officer, and supported by the work of Chris Carrington, Volunteer Co-Ordinator, and a dedicated team of volunteer education assistants, guides and welcomers.

Lead judge Christopher Green commented that: The local and national significance of Sheffield Cathedral's heritage learning provision is shown in its striking location and in the carefully conceived educational programmes. These programmes employ a wealth of academic, practical and role-play sessions in highly effective ways that inspire and inform. The Cathedral building exhibits many physical changes that reflect its rich heritage and history, but it retains its place as a sanctuary and centre for exploration and learning for all across its diverse community.

It is a fantastic achievement that the excellent quality of Sheffield Cathedral's Heritage Learning programme has led to this national recognition and places us at the forefront of Heritage Learning in the UK.

The festival starts on Friday 23 October with the Hallé Orchestra conducted by Sheffield-born Ryan Wigglesworth and ends with New York Counterpoint at Firth Hall on Sunday 25 October.

The Friends of Sheffield Cathedral

The Friends of Sheffield Cathedral support the ministry and mission of the Cathedral, helping to preserve and enhance the building and its arts, and raise awareness of the Cathedral in Sheffield, South Yorkshire and beyond. The annual income the Friends of Sheffield Cathedral receive from membership subscriptions and events allows the Friends to make modest grants to the Cathedral on a regular basis.

In recent years the Friends have been able to make substantial contributions to: the Sheffield Nativity created by Brian Fell; Cathedral Choirs tour to Prague; new music commissions for the Cathedral Choirs; locally designed and made silverware for use in the Eucharist, and a new set of gold vestments used for the first time at the centenary service at Pentecost 2014. Every pound donated to the Friends is guaranteed to contribute towards specific projects to the benefit of the Cathedral, its congregations, visitors and outreach for many years to come.

Further information and membership forms can be obtained from: Ken Bowler, Angela Rees, Nigel Russell or Paul Sewell.
