

Richard Rehl

Richard Rehl, born in Minneapolis in 1959, started painting at an early age on the floor of his childhood home and posting his works for sale on the refrigerator door.

While studying drawing and printmaking at the University of Minnesota, Richard began hand-painting gauche renderings for one-of-a-kind custom rug designs. What started as freelance work has turned into a 28-year successful career with his works residing in prominent homes, hotels, and commercial spaces around the world.

The nature of this intricate, structured work resulted in the need to create on a much larger scale, without limitations.

His current works, predominantly acrylic on paper, canvas or board, reflect this new found freedom.

Coming full circle, Richard has purchased his childhood home and returned to painting on the floor, of his studio.

Galleries

Veronique Wantz Gallery, Minneapolis, MN

Exhibitions

April 2013 – “Distance Reflected” Solo Show, Veronique Wantz Gallery, Minneapolis, MN

August 2013 – Group Show, Veronique Wantz Gallery, Minneapolis, MN

November 2013 – “Above and Beyond” Group Show, Veronique Wantz Gallery, Minneapolis, MN

September 2014 – “Introspective & Retrospective” Group Show, Veronique Wantz Gallery, Minneapolis, MN

Dec 2014 – “Surrender to Nature” Group Show, Veronique Wantz Gallery, Minneapolis, MN