MOTIVATIONAL SPEAKER

Jeniffer's Mission Statement:
Creating opportunity for students to develop an ever-growing passionate educated faith.

Jeniffer Dake

From the slums of Peru to the hospitals of Ethiopia, Jeniffer has seen the power of God at work in the lives of the broken. Now she travels across America, speaking with raw honesty to young people about how to develop an ever-growing passionate and educated faith.

Jeniffer has worked as a model, a waitress, a jeweler, a cake decorator, a biology teacher, and a theater director. In addition to acting in commercials and music videos, she has been in several movies, including the PBS documentary The Johnstown Flood. In 1999, Jeniffer won the best supporting actress award at the Trojan Film Festival at Taylor University.

As varied as Jeniffer's life has been, what drives her is her desire to see young people become discerning and committed followers of Jesus. Working as a youth director for five years, she developed a curriculum that has been adopted by several area churches. One of the founding members of Michael W. Smith's youth center, Rockettown, Jeniffer has toured as a speaker with Michael, Stacy Orrico, Worship Together, and Point of Grace.

Endorsed by internationally renowned worship leader Kevin Singleton and Michael W. Smith, Jeniffer has been described as a speaker with a rare gift for connecting with her audiences in authentic and powerful ways. As one listener said, "Jeniffer was simply amazing. She was fresh. She was new. She was different." From high school labs to crowded auditoriums, Jeniffer can turn heads and change hearts for Christ.

Speaking Topics

Eternal Perspective...

"So much of life is in the here and now. What's this mean to me in this moment? What would make me happy now? Why are they important? We rarely think of next year let alone eternity. But what if a generation of students had an eternal perspective. A perspective that caused them to focus on each of their actions with the weight of eternity resting on the choices they make. I believe a generation with an eternal perspective could change the world!"

The Truth About SIN...

"We live in a culture that tells us, much like the serpent told Eve, that sin doesn't really hurt us. That sin is actually beneficial to us, that our life will be happier and more complete if we simply compromise our standard. When the truth of sin is exposed there is nothing about it that is attractive or desirable. It is my heart's desire to expose teens to the realities of sin and the brokenness it leaves behind. To show the truth about SIN . . ."

Identity in Christ...

"I think the struggle of knowing who you are is on-going, because we change so much as we grow and learn more about the world around us and the one who made it. However, this struggle is never more pronounced than in the teen years. For this reason knowing the promises of Christ is of vital importance. I believe that teens and young adults who have an understanding of their identity as God defines it are better equipped to make life choices that will set them up for success and protect them from the traps of satan."

Greater Things...

"We live in a world that has all the gadgets and widgets and devices one could need and yet our teens walk around unaware of the POWER they have in CHRIST alone. It is as though they have been tricked into believing they are powerless. Scripture is clear about the power Christ has left us with through the Holy Spirit. I love sitting with a group of teenagers and telling them of this power and how they have a power in them that is greater than anything this world has known!"
