Celebrating New Traditions

"Without our traditions, our lives would be as shaky as a fiddler on the roof!"

~ Tevye from Fiddler on the Roof

Where would we be without our traditions? Often, tradition seems like a double-edged sword. At times, it seems to be the only thing that keeps us on the rails of life, even defining who we are or where we have come from. Yet at other times, it seems to be the thing that prevents us from growing and seeing the world in a whole new way.

I think Tevye in Fiddler on the Roof has found a wonderful answer. As the happy music beneath this line seems to suggest, to have a life "as shaky as a fiddler on the roof" may not be such a bad thing!

It reminds us that although it requires courage, if we only dare to keep flexible in our outlook, we can often hear sweet music – familiar or new – right over our heads!

Season 2015 is dedicated to tradition, both old and new. Each presentation explores tradition in its own way. Fiddler on the Roof, La traviata and Kings on Broadway all focus on the challenges of changing traditions. Stewart Goodyear's performance of Bach's Goldberg Variations and Le studio de musique ancienne de Montréal's Music from the Sistine Chapel reminds us of some of our earliest and deepest musical traditions. We also present several projects which imbue old traditions with a startlingly new voice, including performances of harpist Valérie Milot, or the new sounds of MAZ or Jane Bunnett's Maquette.

We welcome back recent traditions such as the TGIF! series of Friday evening fun concerts, as well as the eclectic Brian's Picks. Then there are the brand new traditions. Now settled into our new year-round home at the Clock Tower Cultural Centre in Campbellford, we are thrilled to be presenting a whole new range of programming which we hope will foster brand new traditions for Westben in its community.

Westben may already be a tradition for you. Or you may be discovering it for the very first time. Whichever, our hope is that it becomes a happy tradition that will stay with you for years to come!

To life! Or as Tevye would say, "L'chaim!"

The Clock Tower Cultural Centre (CTCC): The Arts at Heart

In conjunction with the busy schedule of events at The Barn, Westben is thrilled to have started a new tradition! Last year, we took up year-round residence at the newly refurbished Clock Tower Cultural Centre in downtown Campbellford. Bringing us right into the heart of our local community, the Clock Tower is now home to our permanent Box Office, administration and storage facilities. Its “Large Room” is the perfect location for rehearsals, gatherings and intimate performances, while also serving as Council Chambers for the Municipality of Trent Hills, who owns the building. In addition to offering its own programs, Westben also coordinates the public use of the CTCC on behalf of the Municipality.

With the help of a generous two-year grant from the Ontario Trillium Foundation, Westben is excited to launch several new year-round programs at the CTCC including concert band and choral programs for all levels, events for pre-schoolers and seniors, and projects for other life-long learners. To find out more about Westben programs as well as other opportunities to use the CTCC, we invite you to drop by and speak to Susan Oliver, Westben’s Community Engagement Coordinator. Together, let’s keep the Clock Tower ticking with creativity!

New This Year:

Westben Jazz Fringe Festival

Welcome to Westben's first ever "Westben Jazz Fringe Festival"! As a part of Westben's final weekend of activities in the summer of 2015, the Jazz Fringe will be held on August 1 and 2, in conjunction with the Campbellford BIA's Waterfront Festival on August 1. The two-day event features an array of jazz performances featuring both local and guest artists throughout the Trent Hills area. Our goal is to bring the friendly spirit of jazz right into the heart of our community while stimulating interest and awareness of activities at The Barn.

Conceived to keep the beat going between concerts at The Barn on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, the Jazz Fringe features nine distinct performances at seven Trent Hills locations. Also watch for a host of casual performances by some of the area's younger jazzers in various locations scattered throughout the community. Coordinated by Warkworth jazz bassist & composer Howard Baer.
