

Best Place for Audiophiles

El Ganzo became known as the "hippest hotel in Cabo" after Charlie Sheen partied with rock guitarist Slash and (allegedly) Mayor Antonio Villaraigosa in December 2012. But the truth is, you never know who might show up for an impromptu performance in their lobby! Just ask hotel guests who were surprised when Damien Rice and Sara Bareilles took to the mic unannounced on different nights.

Pablo Sánchez Navarro, owner of El Ganzo, loves music so much there is a professional studio on-site! A schedule of regular musicians playing on property is available via their website.

If art is more your thing, El Ganzo features original pieces of art created by visiting artists from all over the world. Live artist installations happen often and new pieces are added to their collection regularly.

The boutique hotel, located at the base of the Puerto Los Cabos Marina, features 74 rooms including suites that overlook the Sea of Cortez, a chic rooftop bar and lounge, a full-service spa, and four on-site restaurants.
