

Remembering the Wisdom of Your Youth

In your daily life on campus and around New Haven have you experienced prejudice, admired someone's courage, wondered about nature, felt love, taken responsibility, pursued happiness, desired freedom, found friendship, been compassionate to others, encountered death, or thought about God? Do you know a child, care about children and want to participate in the future of our planet?

If you answered, "Yes!" to any of the above – then come hear author and philosopher Marietta McCarty speak about sharing the wealth of your experience with the youngest philosophers in our midst – children.

Her book Little Big Minds has been on The New York Times Extended Best Seller list and provides tools for engaging the philosophical wonder and wisdom in children through art, music, poetry and literature.

This Master's Tea will be of special interest to students studying philosophy or education and to those who plan to one day become, or who perhaps already are, parents, teachers, coaches, or community leaders.

Master's Tea with Marietta McCarty
Calhoun College, Yale University
Thursday March 27th

4:30 p.m. at the home of Jonathan Holloway, Master of Calhoun College
