GENERAL MEETING & ANNUAL BOARD ELECTION EDGEWATER HISTORICAL SOCIETY, SEPT. 26, 7:30 PM

The next WANT General Meeting will be held Thursday, September 26th, at 7:30 pm. The meeting will be at Edgewater Historical Society at Balmoral and Ashland. We will cover business both new and old, including updates on the disposition of Trumbull School, remaining traffic issues in the neighborhood, and the election of the 2014 Board.

We will also be voting on amendments to WANT's bylaws. The proposed amendments are minimal and mainly address two issues: updating dollar amounts to reflect the passing of thirty years since the founding of WANT, and ensuring the organization's fiscal year and board term run on the calendar year.

The slate of nominees for the WANT board for 2014 includes the following:

President: Michael Fick

Vice President: Maia Rigas

Secretary: Josh Bucher

Treasurer: Cameron Krieger

Members at Large:

Elizabeth Dowling,

Amanda Dykema-Engblade

Debby Pope

GHOSTLY GARDEN

A non-scary Halloween event for families with small children

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 26

5:30-6:30 P.M.

West Andersonville Garden
at Ravenswood from Berwyn to Balmoral
(Enter the garden at Berwyn and Ravenswood)

Please join us at this gentle community event as we stroll the path, play games, and enjoy treats. Children premiere their Halloween costumes and parents warm up with coffee as we celebrate the spirit of the season.

To volunteer to make decorations, set up, or dress in non-scary costume at the event, please call/e-mail Clare Reter. (773.320.5396/ClareReter@me.com)

Do you know an individual or business who might help sponsor this year's Ghostly Garden? It is a great way to support our community and get your name out to more than 200 neighbors and parents. Contact Clare Reter for more information.

West Andersonville Gardens Do's and Don'ts

Maryon Gray, Chairperson, West Andersonville Gardens

We want everyone to enjoy West Andersonville Gardens, our community garden which runs along Ravenswood (east of the METRA tracks) between Berwyn and Balmoral. And we need everyone's help to keep the garden looking beautiful. Here are some community garden do's and don'ts:

Do...

- Take a stroll through the garden, with or without your children and your pets;
- Enjoy the beautiful fall colors which will be coming soon;
- As you pass through, pick up some apples and throw them in the garbage (or eat them if the squirrels haven't gotten them first; they're really good.) We need everyone to join us on "apple patrol."

Don't. . .

- Let your children climb the trees. We know it's great fun, but two large branches were broken off this year.
- Dispose of soil, rocks or plants by bringing them to the garden. On our Sept. 8 gardening workday, we found three large piles of soil in one of our planted areas which we had to move. If you have something you think we might be able to use in the garden, please contact us at westandersonvilleneighbors2@gmail.com and we'll let you know if it would be helpful.

• Remove the plants or pick the flowers. (The worst offenders this year are the bunnies, who probably are not reading this newsletter!)

In addition to observing these do's and don'ts, we hope you'll join us for one of our two remaining garden workdays. We'll be in the garden from 9:00 to noon on Saturday, September 28 and Sunday, October 20. No gardening experiences is necessary. Tools will be provided. Look for us at Ravenswood and Summerdale east of the METRA tracks. Come when you can; leave when you must.

We are happy to report that the deep sink hole south of Summerdale has finally been repaired. Thanks to Kathy at Alderman O'Connor's ward office for coming out and taking a look at this problem.

We have some major projects planned for next year, including rechipping the garden path and replanting the area just south of the pedestrian tunnel at Berwyn. We hope you'll join us to make these plans a reality.

Is safety a priority for you? Then come to the next neighborhood CAPS Police Beat meeting!

Chicago Alternative Policing Strategy (CAPS), introduced in 1994, offers area residents the opportunity to build relationships with the beat officers who patrol our neighborhood, Beat 2012 within Police District 20 as well as become informed about safety issues.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 9, 7:00–8:00 pm, in Saint Gregory's Gym, 1609 W. Gregory.

Concerns about land use and zoning issues? A committee or board member will speak on the subject at the general meeting on Sept. 26.

Trumbull Coalition Formed

With many local residents concerned about what will happen to the former home of Trumbull Elementary, several neighborhood groups have joined forces to create the Trumbull Coalition. The Coalition includes representatives from West Andersonville Neighbors Together, the Andersonville Chamber of Commerce, Andersonville Development Corporation, Friends of Trumbull, Edgewater Historical Society, and Ebenezer Lutheran Church. As disappointing as it has been to see Trumbull closed after such a long history and after so much hard-fought advocacy by neighborhood residents, the Coalition is hopeful that the community's voice can help shape the next chapter in the building's history. To that end, the Coalition has plans to meet with Alderman O'Connor regarding the site, and is closely monitoring any potential developments, such as permit applications or rezoning attempts. Several potential paths are being explored.

On August 23rd, Mayor Rahm Emanuel announced the formation of an Advisory Committee for School Repurposing and Community Development, which is supposed to include a process to engage community input in its recommendations for dispositions of the shuttered CPS schools. If you have concerns or questions regarding the disposition of the Trumbull building, please attend WANT's General Meeting on September 26th (details in this newsletter) for additional information.

Get to Know WANT's Business Members Painted Light's Barbara Laing

"Painted Light" refers to the process of adding oil color to black-and-white photographs—the passion that started things off for me back in 1990. My diverse background in photography, multimedia, filmmaking, and inventing cocktail punches left me unfit for a regular job. I began hand-tinting photographs as "art" pieces, and showed them at weekend fairs. After establishing myself in the eclectic community of Andersonville on the far northside of Chicago, custom framing services and photo restoration were combined in Painted Light Photography & Framing Gallery, 1742 W. Balmoral Avenue.

We started the framing department 19 years ago, when our photograph restoration customers wanted to do everything in one location with someone they trusted. We offer a dazzling array of frame mouldings ranging from less expensive ready-made and stock frames, to highly customized, hand-leafed frames—and everything in between. We offer a full selection of matting options, including customized fabric-wrapped and hand-decorated mats.

At Painted Light we set ourselves apart by providing customers with an attentive atmosphere in which to address their individual needs with openness and sensitivity to both aesthetics and price. We have become known for our personal touch, wide range of available services and options, and executing projects with skilled and creative craftsmanship. Our combination of services—in addition to being the neighborhood “general store” for gifts and artwork—has allowed us to grow into the “small shop with expansive capabilities” that we are today, including those cocktail punches served at every art opening and party I host.

First Annual Block Party a Success

Don Gecewicz, Event Organizer

The first annual WANT block party was held on the 1700 W. Balmoral block on July 21. About 150 neighbors came out and enjoyed an afternoon of community and food—and bouncing in the city-sponsored bounce house.

The schedule of events included a tour of a gem of the neighborhood, the West Andersonville Gardens. The Chicago Mounted Police and the Bike Ambassadors both made a special visit. Jennifer Trowbridge and Dede Sampaio were the special musical guests. They played a set of Brazilian music that included some standards as well as some newer styles. As always, Brazilian music and musicians are accomplished and delightful.

The communal meal began with entrees by Ranalli's of Andersonville. Ranalli's owner Jennifer Grant and her staff brought in a wide selection, including some kid-friendly dishes. Starting a neighborhood tradition, many neighbors brought delicious side dishes to pass as well as homemade desserts. All in all, the long buffet table was a tempting sight.

Special thanks are due to the stalwart merchants of 1700 West Balmoral. Pauline's Restaurant, Karma Hair Studio, Joie De Vine, and Painted Light sponsored a post-modern photo booth, with attendants, that drew a long line of people. The photos were a great way to commemorate the celebration. Thanks to the members of the Summer Event Committee: Josh Bucher, Dianne Daleiden, Autumn Davidson, Mike Dies, Dennis Hensley, Michael Hixenbaugh, Sara Hornstra, Clare Reter, and LaMont Vaughn. If you're interested in helping to plan the 2014 block party, please contact WANT at westandersonvilleneighbors2@gmail.com

The second annual mega-block party is tentatively scheduled for July 2014.

WHAT'S ON, IN AND AROUND

Changes on Clark Street—News that Marigold Indian Restaurant had closed, and that Ann Sather Swedish Restaurant will soon follow suit, is sad news for Andersonville's Clark Street. A glimmer of good news: DNAinfo.com reports that the Andersonville Chamber of Commerce will soon announce a new tenant, likely a restaurant and bar, for the space formerly occupied by T's Bar, 5025 N. Clark Street.

New Art Space for Andersonville—DNAinfo.com reports that plans are under way for a $1 million project that would create a multifaceted arts venue in Andersonville at the former location of Nelson Funeral Chapel, 5149 N. Ashland. Tentatively named the Andersonville Art Center, the ambitious project would include gallery space, a theater, bar, and taqueria.

Local Craft Fair Celebrates All Things Local—City Made Fest, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 21 and 22, will highlight the exceptional work of local brewers, crafters, and musicians. On Clark Street between Argyle and Carmen. $5 suggested donation.

Learn about Foster Parent Opportunities—Come learn how to ease the life of a child by becoming a foster parent. Marc Berman of Jewish Child and Family Services will be leading a discussion for those interested in learning the benefits, and challenges, of becoming short-term or long-term foster parents. If you've parented your own children and are proud of who they have become, if you consider yourself a good role model, if you enjoy watching a child bloom into a responsible, well-adjusted person, if you just want to learn more about something you might like to pursue, join neighbors of all faiths Monday, Sept. 30, at 7:30 pm at Summerdale Community Church, 1700 W. Farragut (at Paulina). For more information or questions, e-mail sumcomchu@sbcglobal.net.

Andersonville Arts Weekend—On Oct. 11–13, Clark Street turns into an art gallery, with original artwork by dozens of local artists showcased in businesses and galleries throughout the neighborhood, plus a variety of live shows and performances—free admission all weekend! Friday night will kick off with a fabulous night of parties in dozens of stores along Clark Street. Events throughout the weekend will be held at Unity Lutheran Church, ph Comedy Theater, Women and Children First, Greensky, among other businesses and organizations. For the schedule of events, see www.andersonville.org/artsweekend/schedule.

Uptown Treasure Hunting: Vintage Garage Chicago—The best vintage and antiques dealers gather together one day a month to present the best in vintage/antiques merchandise anywhere in the city! It's all about buying and selling vintage. The final show of the year will be on October 20, 9–5 pm, at 5051 N. Broadway at Argyle. For more, check out www.vintagegaragechicago.com. $5 admission.

Schedule of Halloween Events in Andersonville—Gethsemane Children's Fall Festival, Oct. 26, 11–4 pm; Cheetah Gym Trick or Treat & Costume Contest, Saturday, Oct. 26 (afternoon); WANT Ghostly Garden, Saturday, Oct. 26, 5:30–6:30 pm. All free events.

Swedish-American Museum Annual Gala—Save the date for this year's annual fundraising gala, All That Jazz, to be held on Saturday, Oct. 26, 2013, at Roosevelt University's Auditorium Ballroom. For more information, please call the Museum at (773) 728-8111.
