Today we are taught in the Gospel that "the last will be first and the first will be last." The Processional Hymn and the Offertory Hymns teach us that by our longing for the Lord we receive justice, wisdom and healing, and at the "Table of Plenty" there is enough for all of us to receive our fill of what the earth has to offer and what heaven promises.

Welcome back to the Adult Choir this weekend at the 11:30 Mass. Thanks to those who expressed an interest in, or have joined the Choir. Taylor Arras, our Evangelization and Social Director did a wonderful job last weekend with the Volunteer Fair. It was a lot of fun and instrumental in bringing new people into the Music Ministry. We are always interested in more members, since numbers make for a rich, wonderful sound from the Choir. Thanks also to those MANY folks who expressed joy and thanks for the wonderful ministry which the Choir, Soloists, and Instrumentalists provide each week. We are humbled and grateful for your comments, and we thank God for the many talented people of Holy Cross Parish who share their talent with the congregation. Music, whether vocal or instrumental is truly the highest form of worship, and has always been fostered in the history of the Catholic Church

33 Days to Morning Glory Spiritual Retreat

Registration forms are available at all exits for this spiritual retreat leading us to Consecration to Jesus through Mary. What does this mean? It means that Mary prays with us and for us in all our needs and that she leads us to a closer relationship with her son, Jesus. Don't all mothers want everyone to know the good things their son has done? Mary is no different! This retreat includes prayer, reading, group sharing and inspiring DVD teachings by Fr. Michael Gaitley MIC. The Tuesday - Wednesday schedule is flexible to meet your family needs. We will also offer the previous week's DVD 30 minutes prior to the current week's session. Books will be purchased based on the registrations received by October 1st so please get your registrations into the parish office within the next two weeks. All materials will be distributed at the first sessions.

Altar Servers:

Serving on the altar is a wonderful way for young people to get to know our faith. We have been blessed in the past with some very loyal and dedicated young people who work hard to glorify our Lord's Eucharistic meal each Saturday and Sunday. If you are the parent of a current altar server, or would like your child to become an altar server, please stop by the robing room before or after Mass to fill out an information form. We would like to update our files and, as we lose altar servers to soccer practice, school plays and other activities, we need to replenish our ranks. If you have any questions please call Deacon Dare Dutter at 446-0473 or email him at ddutter@twcny.rr.com.

From the Catholic News Service:

In an interview published in part in the Argentine weekly "Viva" July 27, the Pope listed his Top 10 tips for bringing greater joy to one's life:

1. "Live & let live." Everyone should be guided by this principle, he said, which has a similar expression in Rome with the saying, "Move forward & let others do the same."
2. "Be giving of yourself to others." People need to be open and generous toward others, he said, because "if you withdraw into your self, you run the risk of becoming egocentric. And stagnant water becomes putrid."
3. "Proceed calmly" in life. The Pope, who used to teach high school literature, used an image from an Argentine novel by Ricardo Güiraldes, in which the protagonist—gaucho Don Segundo Sombra—looks back on how he lived his life. "He says that in his youth he was a stream full of rocks that he carried with him; as an adult, a rushing river; & in old age, he was still moving, but slowly, like a pool of water - to have "the ability to move with kindness & humility, a calmness in life."
4. "A healthy sense of leisure." The pleasures of art, literature and playing together with children have been lost, he said. "Consumerism has brought us anxiety" & stress, causing people to love a "healthy culture of leisure." Their time is "swallowed up" so people can't share it with anyone. Even though many parents work long hours, they must set aside time to play with their children; work schedules make it "complicated, but you must do it," he said. Families must also turn off the TV when they sit down to eat because, even though television is useful for keeping up with the news, having it on during mealtime "doesn't let you communicate" with each other, the Pope said.
5. Sundays should be holidays. Workers should have Sundays off because "Sunday is for family," he said.
6. Find innovative ways to create dignified jobs for young people. "We need to be creative with young people. If they have no opportunities they will get into drugs" & be more vulnerable to suicide, he said.
7. Respect & take care of nature. Environmental degradation "is one of the biggest challenges we have," he said. "I think a question that we're not asking ourselves is: 'Isn't humanity committing suicide with this indiscriminate & tyrannical use of nature?'"
8. Stop being negative. "Needing to talk badly about others indicates love self-esteem. That means, 'I feel so low that instead of picking myself up I have to cut others down,'" the Pope said. "Letting go of negative things quickly is healthy."
9. Don't proselytize; respect others' beliefs. "We can inspire others through witness so that one grows together in communicating. But the worst thing of all is religious proselytism, which paralyzes: 'I am talking with you in order to persuade you,' No. Each person dialogues, starting with his & her own identity. The Church grows by attraction, not proselytizing," the Pope said.
10. Work for peace. "We are living in a time of many wars," he said, & "the call for peace must be shouted. Peace sometimes gives the impression of being quiet, but it is never quiet, peace is always proactive" & dynamic. Pope Francis also talked about the importance of helping immigrants, praising Sweden's generosity in opening its doors to so many people, while noting anti-immigration policies show the rest of Europe "is afraid." He also fondly recalled the woman who helped his mother with the housework when he was growing up in Buenos Aires. Concepcion Maria Minuto was a Sicilian immigrant, a widow & mother of two boys, who went three times a week to help the Pope's mother do laundry, since in those days it was all done by hand. He said this hard-working, dignified woman made a big impression on the 10 year old future Pope, as she would talk to him about World War II in Italy & how they farmed in Sicily. "She was as clever as a fox, she had every penny accounted for, she wouldn't be cheated. She had many great qualities," he said. Even though his family lost touch with her when they moved, the then-Jesuit Father Jorge Bergoglio later sought her out & visited her for the last 10 years of her life. "A few days before she died, she took this small medal out of her pocket, give it to me and said: 'I want you to have it?' so every night when I take it off and kiss it, & every morning when I put it back on this woman comes to my mind." "She died happy, with a smile on her face & with the dignity of someone who worked.

For that reason I am very sympathetic toward housecleaners & domestic workers, who's right, all of them, should be recognized" & protected, he said. "They must never be exploited or mistreated." Pope Francis' concern was underlined in his @Pontifex Twitter feed just a few days later, July 29m with the message: "May we be always more grateful for the help of domestic workers & caregivers; theirs is a precious service."
