Caroline Munn talks about her buddy, Alexandra

"Alexandra is at the center of my life. I have known her for two years and we have a very special relationship. She teaches me so many things about dragons and about her passion, drawing. Alex is an amazing artist and can draw the greatest pictures I have ever seen. Some of the adjectives that I would use to describe her are: creative, artistic, inventive, innovative, and imaginative. I can't find enough adjectives to describe this wonderful young woman. Everyday I can see how she evolves and realize all the things she teaches me."

Caroline Kaczynski talks about her buddy, John

"This year, John and I are going on our second year being a buddy pair. So far, our friendship has been awesome! We love to talk about music, tv shows, movies, and John's personal favorite, rappers (I always make the crucial mistake of calling his favorite rapper, Tyga, a "singer"). Last year John and I had gym class together and got to play a lot of sports with each other. Unfortunately, this year we are in separate gym classes but I'm looking forward to cheering John on in his challenger basketball season. We love to text and send funny e-cards on holidays. Although the year has just begun, I can tell our friendship will continue to improve and we will make even more memories than last!"
