

Flexible Seating

By: Clara Archer

Flexible seating is awesome! I love how every day I get to sit next to new people, and sometimes even make new friends! There is the right chair for everyone. There are regular chairs, ball chairs, rocking chairs, stools, and a bench that folds into a table! The reason I love how there are different chairs, is because if I can't concentrate in one I know never to sit in that chair again. Another reason is that the rules of flexible seating teach me to be responsible, because it teaches me to be responsible of who I sit next to. Say I really want to sit next to my friends but I know that I'll talk all day. What do I do? I follow Mrs. Albig's smart spot rule. It means to pick a spot where you can concentrate. I love flexible seating!

Flexible Seating

By: Ellie Brantuk

I really like flexible seating. Flexible seating is sitting in a different seat everyday with different people. We have tables in all shapes and sizes. We also have cool chairs with flexible seating, high chairs and low chairs. One reason is you have lots of room to do your work. If you have a lot of books you still have space to work. Another reason is in the morning you just walk in and sit where ever you want. For example one day if you can not focus you can just switch your seat. One rule in flexible seating is to choose a smart spot. You should not sit next to your friends. Another example is that if you sit in a stool one day and you do not like it maybe the next day you can sit in a ball chair or a rocking chair. I really like flexible seating in my classroom you should try flexible seating in your classroom.

Micaela Cuccia

10-26-17

Flexible Seating

I think flexible seating is a good way to make new friends. Everyday I walk into Mrs. Albig's room knowing I am going to sit somewhere different then the previous day. One reason why flexible seating is great is that it make children feel happy. Wouldn't it be boring to have to sit in the same seat all the time? You can also move around the room. Like for example, if you can't see the smartboard, you can move up to the front of the room. If you are lucky enough you can get cool chairs like ball chairs, spinning chairs, and rocking chairs. All of us love it! But, there are some rules that need to be followed. Number one: Choose a spot that allows you to do your work (smart spot). Number two: use your seat appropriately. Number three: If a spot isn't working, choose a different spot so you can be successful! Number four: Take care of supplies, and clean up after yourself. Number five: Be respectful of the classroom and your classmates. Number six: Flexible seating is a privilege. Your teacher can move anyone who has not chosen a "smart spot. So those are the rules! I hope you liked them! I think flexible seating is great. Do you?

Flexible seating

Lauren Camillery

In my opinion flexible seating is helpful. The reason flexible seating is helpful is that you get to sit where ever you never sat. this helps to make new friends. The rules are you should not talk to your friends so people don't get in trouble. If you want you can sit with your friend for one day. But if you don't talk you can sit with them if you want. For example me and my friends don't talk and we are best friends. That is why flexible seating is helpful.

How I feel about flexible seating.

Henry Carbonell

In my opinion flexible seating is amazing. One reason I like flexible seating it is your own space so your not all ways copped up in the same spot. You can also choose your char such as a bouncy chair or a rocking chair or still char. this is why I think your class should use flexible seating.

Julianna

October 27, 2017

Flexible Seating

In Ms. Albig's class we have flexible seating. I think it is good for students and the chairs are more comfy then normal classroom chairs. One way they are good for students is they can make more friends by siting at different tables every day. Another way is if the seat dose not help you think then you can chose a different seat the next day. Lastly in a normal classroom you have to change seats every two or three months, but with flexible seating you can change seats every day. One way their more comfy then normal classroom chairs is some have balls and some have rockers. Another way is the chairs have different shapes and sizes. Lastly normal classroom chairs are not comfy but flexible seating chairs are. That is why I think all classes should have flexible seating.

Matthew franklin

10/26/17

Flexible Seating

I think flexible seating is great because it is a great way to experience new friends because I have made 4 this year. Also flexible seating is good because there is always one chair for you.

For example there is a chair that will make you feel comfortable.

Another reason is flexible seating is good because it has strict rules like pick a smart spot so you

Will not talk. Also you have to seat appropriately. For example do not be making noises to distract other classmates. This is why I think flexible seating is good.

Flexible Seating!

I believe that all teachers should have flexible seating. You should because if a child has a disorder they can move to a seat where they can see or have no trouble with. Also if you teachers choose the wrong spot for a kid and he really wants to move he can the next day. Also if the kid has a habit of leaning there chair back you can get special chairs like rocking chairs. Also if they fallow the school rules they will do the same home. Also if a kid never sits to anyone because the teacher always picks the same person the will never make friends, if you want the kids to have friends you better let them sit where ever they want and meet new people to talk with! Did I convince you to get flexible seating?

Thomas Fargione

10/26/17

Flexible Seating

Flexible seating is a great thing to have in a classroom. The rules are choose a spot that you won't talk to someone all day. The second rule is use the seats appropriately. The third rule is if a spot is uncomfortable you can move, but ask a teacher. The next rule is keep areas clean and neat. The last rule is be respectful to classmates and teachers. Flexible seating is a good way to make new friend and not just know one person all year. Also, you can change your seat every day if you don't like spot your in today you can switch the next day. Say you're seating in a stool today and you don't like it, you can seat in a rocking chair the next day. From flexible seating I've made five friends from because I was seating in different seats every day. These is why every class should have flexible seating.

Flexible Seating

Excuse me but there is something lots of teachers, students, and even principals are missing out on, and it's flexible seating! There are so many reasons why flexible seating is great. One reason is there are rules. Like don't sit next to people you will talk to or you have to sit in your seat appropriately. Which will make you more mature. Another thing is if you don't like the seat you are in you can change it and sit somewhere else tomorrow! Flexible seating works for me because I get to sit with new people each day and make new friends! Plus, since there are so many different seats there is a perfect seat for everybody! Those are just a few reasons why flexible seating is great. I hope a few people notice how amazing flexible seating is!

Flexible seating

I really enjoy flexible seating because we can go to different seats and tables every day! Some chairs are: the stool, the bouncy stool, the rocking chair, the regular chair, and the spinney chair. Flexible seating is comfortable and it gives you the ability to work. There are some rules to flexible seating: use your seat appropriate way, be respectful to your classmates around you, and chose the best spot for you. Follow these rules and you can like flexible seating too! I really enjoy flexible seating in Mrs. Albig's class!

Flexible Seating

Flexible seating is probably what all students should have in their classroom. I really like flexible seating because every day kids sit in a new chair and possibly make a new friend, and I am sure parents want their kids making new friends. For example: one day someone might not like where they are sitting so the next day they can move, or if you know you are going to talk to the person next to you ask the teacher if you can move. That's why I recommend flexible seating for all classes.

Flexible Seating

Flexible seating is very fun! Flexible seating is when students sit wherever they want every day. I like flexible seating because I can sit next to someone new every day. Another reason I like flexible seating is because if I didn't like a seat one day the next day I don't have to sit there the next day. The best part of flexible seating is the chairs. Some of the chairs are: lime green stools, blue rocking chairs, and gray ball chairs. There are also blue bendable chairs and gray bouncy chairs. There is also a bench that folds into a desk. That is really cool. Some of the rules in flexible seating are: choose your seat appropriately that means don't choose a seat where you may talk a lot. Another rules include being respectful of other's space.

Flexible seating is fun because students can walk in and have a new spot every day instead of having the same "old" one every day. I think more classes should have flexible seating for these reasons.

Christopher Morgan

10/26/17

Flexible Seating

Flexible seating is really great. If you don't like the chair your sitting in you can just move to a different seat the next day. For example if you try a stool and you don't like it try a rocker. In our classroom we have a lot of different chairs. If someone at your table is bothering you, you should just move to a different spot. For example if someone is making silly faces at you, you should just move to a different table. It is great to be in different seats and flexible seating is a blast!

William Stone

10-27-17

How I feel about flexible seating

In opinion about flexible seating is amazing . One reason is I like flexible seating is that it helps me think better. I'm not cooped in one spot every day . Then when you get into a fight with someone you don't have to sit right next to the person that's why I like flexible seating.

Flexible seating

This year in my classroom we have flexible seating. Flexible seating is when a student gets in the classroom they don't have to sit in the same old seat everyday they can sit at a different seat every day. There are also special chairs like stools, rockers, ball chairs, and also regular chairs. One reason I prefer flexible seating because if someone is bothering a student the student can move. Flexible seating is great way to learn. Flexible seating is a great way to learn responsibility to stay neat, to be kind, and to be friends with people you may not like. Flexible seating is also a good way to make friends by sitting next to someone new at the school. I prefer flexible seating in my classroom.

Thomas Santucci

10/26/17

Flexible Seating

I think that flexible seating is the best but there are some rules. one example is you have to pick a good seat for you. When you go to school you are not existed but when you have flexible seating you are kind of existed because you now you can pick any seat you want. Another reason is that no one wants to sit in a hard char all day. This works for me because I'm always commutable. If I was the principal of this school I would make every class have cool seats.

Miguel Sanchez-Nunez

10/26/17

Flexible Seating

I think flexible seating is fun because you get to sit in a different chair every day. The second reason is because there are lots of different chairs. For example: stools, bouncy balls, regular chairs, and rocking chairs. It teaches me how to make new friends and meet your friends that you already have every day.

Flexible Seating

Everyday, I walk into the classroom very excited. Very excited because there is a whole classroom with amazing seats and I can choose and sit in any one of them! I have these choices because in my class we have flexible seating. Flexible seating is great because we do not have normal classroom chairs that are uncomfortable instead we have fun chairs that are comfortable. Some of our chairs are bouncy and squishy some even spin. But that is not the greatest thing about flexible seating. It is also great because someone sits somewhere on day and does not enjoy it they can choose a new seat the next day. Sometimes in normal chairs kids can not relax like they can in flexible seating chairs maybe on a hot day kids come in from recess and want to relax in a flexible seating classroom they can! As you can see, flexible seating is great and I recommend it for every class.

Amber McDonald

October 26, 2017

Flexible Seating

Have you heard about Flexible Seating? Flexible Seating is a fun way of seating to work around your classroom. In flexible Seating you can find a new seat to sit in every day. Sitting next to someone new every day can also give you an opportunity to meet someone new and over time become friends with them. I really like flexible seating. The best part about Flexible Seating is that there are so many different kinds of chairs. We have so many different choices to choose from. We have rocking chairs, stools, a bench, cubes, bean bags, and ball chairs. They are all really comfortable, and can keep you in a good mood all day. Flexible Seating is also a good way to become more responsible. Those are some reasons why we should keep Flexible Seating alive and standing tall!

Flexible Seating

By Marisa Patrissi

In my opinion I think flexible seating is great. One reason is students get to sit with different kids every day. Kids can make new friends. Students can choose to sit in different seats every day. Students can choose from a bouncy balls, yoga balls, stand up chairs, rocking chairs, stools, and a bench. If kids can't see from where there are then students can move to a different seat. This is why I think flexible seating is great.