

Deep in the jungle, Ed played a sad song
on his trunk
which he thought was excessively long.

The sweet giraffe, whose name was Paul,
thought that he was way too tall.

"On every branch, I bump my head!"

"I'm all alone up here," he said.

Then just up ahead, look what they found!
A sad little monkey, plopped there on the ground.

Back in the jungle, they chuckled to see Mike fling bananas from the top of a tree.

"You believed in me, so I tried again and climbed this tree right there and then!"

Because all you really have to do is just believe in
