

Curious Garden

Are you curious about gardens? After hearing the Read-Aloud of Peter Brown's "Curious Garden" Go on a nature hunt in your own back yard or neighborhood and see if you can find wildflowers, weeds, or grass sprouting up in unexpected places where they weren't planted. Perhaps in between the cracks in the sidewalk or under rocks. Be a detective and take pictures or draw what you see and write a sentence or sentences to go with each picture. (1st - 2nd) grade lesson

Lesson Adaptation: (TK-Kinder) Draw a picture or take a photo of what you & your child see on your nature walk and write a word for each.

Ex. grass, flower, etc.

*All ages: Plant a garden of your own and take pictures or draw your garden's growth in a journal.
