

Protecting Journalism Sources in the Digital Age

In 2017, UNESCO published this landmark study on digital era threats facing investigative journalism and confidential sources.

The study, authored by journalist and researcher Julie Posetti, examines source protection erosion in 121 countries.

The Blueprint for Free Speech initiative “Working with Whistleblowers in the Digital Age: A handbook for journalists” reflects one of the study’s core recommendations - the need to educate journalists and their sources in digital era defensive strategies.
