

Dance at Socrates – Young Choreographers Program

Young choreographers ages 13-18 are invited to apply for a week of mentorship as they make new choreography. This program, part of Dance at Socrates, will choose one student for each week of August and at the end of the week their choreography will be presented to the public in performance. They will receive guidance from a professional choreographer and be given time to work on the main stage.

A $40 travel stipend will be provided to each participant.

Students who have studied dance and have a desire to make choreography are encouraged to apply. Students will provide their own dancers. Solos are fine. There are no limits on the type of work created.

For more information on the companies that will be in residence visit:
