CENTER ST. TO GET NEW PLAYGROUND

A big change is coming to Center Street Park. Construction is due to begin soon on new playground equipment, thanks to an anonymous donation given to Milwaukee County Parks to replace the existing equipment.

The Friends of Center Street

Park announced the news in September and are looking forward to showcasing the project at the group's annual Fall Fest, which will be held on Saturday, Oct. 19, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the park. All residents are invited.

POLL WORKERS NEEDED

By Nancy Hall

Wauwatosa needs you. Next year is an election year, and the City of Wauwatosa will need poll workers, especially for the presidential election to be held on Nov. 3, 2020. This will be the last of four elections in 2020, with primaries to be held in February, April and August, as well as November.

Please consider becoming a poll worker if you're able. These are paid positions for work that's rewarding and varied. The city will train you in everything you need to know to staff an election. Once you have been assigned to a ward, and are working on an election day, you will have support from your fellow poll workers as well as your chief inspector, or supervising poll worker, as you learn the ropes.

If you want to help ensure smooth and orderly elections for your fellow Tosans in 2020 and beyond, please contact the Wauwatosa City Clerk's office at 414-479-8917 to apply. The city clerk and members of her staff are available during office hours to answer any questions you may have about rate of pay, schedules and other aspects of serving as a poll worker.

Donation delivered

TETNA Board President David Paulsen recently presented our $5,500 donation, the proceeds from Run Tosa Run 2019, to Ronald McDonald House Charities of Eastern Wisconsin President/CEO Ann Petrie. We've now raised more than $25,000 over six years. Thanks to our runners, volunteers and sponsors.

PLAYGROUND

Installation of the new playground was expected to occur on a rapid timetable, with the old playground demolished in late September and a community build scheduled for early October.

Residents have discussed options for upgrading the playground for at least three years, with Friends of Center Street Park convening a meeting on the topic in 2016. Those discussions, however, had not yet led to an action plan when news broke about the donation.

It was not immediately known how much money was donated or what the new playground's total cost would be. What we do know is that the Friends of Center Street Park hope to have a new centerpiece for their Fall Fest on Oct. 19, with a ribbon cutting ceremony planned for the morning.

Fall Fest also will feature live music, bounce houses, an arts and crafts booth, scarecrow building and other activities. See you there!

MURALISTS SPLASH EAST TOSA WITH ART

A colorful raccoon hides behind a tree outside Cranky's.

By Lora Wilson

Wallpapered City, a consulting agency specializing in sourcing professional artists for large-scale art projects, teamed up with the Wauwatosa Tourism Commission in July to implement an exciting East Tosa art project. The result is seven murals on buildings along North Avenue.

The project, first discussed three years ago, was funded by the Tourism Commission through hotel room tax dollars. Wallpapered City helped with many components, including recruiting muralists and ensuring water and supplies were on hand during the hot days of painting in July.

Check out the seven murals decorating walls in our community, each one with a unique story.

Alfa Flower Shop

Not originally planned as part of the project, owners of Alfa heard the news and wanted to join in. They contacted Wallpapered City, and the seventh mural was added in less than two weeks. Artist Nykoli Kostow is a Milwaukee resident.

BelAir Cantina

BelAir not only offered its building for a colorful cat mural, but it also provided food and drinks at a grand opening event in the 69th Street Pocket Park. The muralist, Adam Hernandez, is a Milwaukee native.

Cranky's and Nobleman

These two murals were welcomed warmly by Joey Carioti, who owns the Nobleman building and manages Cranky's. Artist Dan Leonard painted a raccoon on the side of Cranky's, and a hummingbird was the centerpiece of the Nobleman mural by Eric Ricks, a showman all week who did backflips for spectators.

Above, the mural at Voline. Right, artists and building owners pose for a group photo at the unveiling event.

Hartland building (65th/North)

Artist Christina Thomas resides in our very own Tosa East Towne neighborhood. Building owners Don and Kate Hill stepped in when there was a last-minute change to the six walls originally proposed. "We can imagine sitting at Wauwatiki and looking at this wall," they said.

Tosa Yoga

Cuban-American artist Ivan Roque traveled from Miami for the project, so the "heat was nothing." This goldfish mural was welcomed warmly by the Landgraf family, owners of Tosa Yoga.

Voline

You can't miss the wild black-and-white stripe pattern when filling up your gas tank. Artists Max Komarov and Matt Mederer worked at night so Voline could stay open for business each day. When the idea was proposed, organizers weren't sure Dick, Voline's owner, would go for it. They were pleasantly surprised. "I love it," he said.

Tosa's All-City Read is 'Just Mercy'

By Nancy Hall

Tosa's All-City Read, sponsored by the Wauwatosa Neighborhood Association Council, has chosen for this year's book "Just Mercy," attorney Bryan Stevenson's memoir of the people and experiences that led him to found the Equal Justice Initiative in 1989.

A young lawyer fresh out of Harvard, Stevenson began his groundbreaking work essentially unprepared for what he would find as he reviewed and appealed death sentences in Alabama's harsh court system. He found evidence that indifference, ineptitude, and racism had conspired to deprive his clients of the kind of legal representation that may have resulted in less Draconian punishment.

Stevenson also found cases in which he suspected that the people asking him for help were innocent of the crimes for which they had been sentenced to die. The book focuses on one such case, that of Walter McMillian, an African American man sentenced to death for the 1988 murder of a white woman. Stevenson conducted an exhaustive review of McMillian's trial and investigation of the facts of the case that led to the inescapable conclusion that McMillian had not committed the crime.

Although the stories took place almost 30 years ago, they remain timely. Those who plan to join the community read are encouraged to do so ahead of the January 2020 release of a film of McMillian and Stevenson's story starring Jamie Foxx as Walter McMillian and Michael B. Jordan as Bryan Stevenson. The book is available through Little Read Book, Barnes and Noble and other major booksellers.

Book discussions, lectures and other events are planned for February 2020, hosted by the Tosa's All-City Read committee. Check tosasallcityread.com or facebook.com/TosasAllCityRead for schedules of events and information about book giveaways.
