

Seattle Presbytery Session Records Review

Process:

- Sign in on the attendance sheet
- You'll hook up with another clerk of session to review each other's session minutes and church rolls and registers
- Use the session records review checklist for the review
- You can participate in one review, or in several

Helpful Hints/Things to Remember

- Prepare! Prepare your session records review sheet ahead of time, noting pages and/or marking with sticky notes. This speeds up the process and is VERY helpful to your fellow reviewers.
- Peer Review! This is peer review, a chance to meet and talk with other clerks of session and gain wisdom from each other.
- No grades! However, the Stated Clerk does make a report to presbytery about which churches have had their records reviewed.
- Bring Questions! This will be a great opportunity to chat with other clerks, and ask them for their advice if you have some particular challenges in your congregation.
