Profile

Jayme Schnelt, PT, DPT has been practicing in adult orthopedics for three years. Jayme is originally from central Illinois, but went to school and practiced for one year in St. Louis, Missouri before moving to Chicago in September 2013. She has worked at the Des Plaines location of Illinois Bone & Joint for the past two years.

Jayme enjoys working with a variety of age groups, but especially enjoys treating the young athlete population, post operative patients, and lower extremity diagnoses. She was a participant in the IBJI ACL task force, which worked to develop a unified ACL protocol for rehabilitation in her first year at the clinic, and continues to participate in the sports medicine special interest group. She also enjoys working with the pediatric population at the Des Plaines location and worked solely in pediatrics for her first six months of practice after graduating. She sees a wide variety of ages with her pediatric patients, mainly with an orthopedic background, but also enjoys treating developmental and torticollis diagnoses. She is an active member in the Pediatric Program as well.

Jayme enjoys reading, spending time with friends and family, and traveling as often as possible.
