Profile

Agnes Kowalska, PT, DPT, is a graduate from Carroll University. Agnes grew up in the northwest suburbs of Chicago and moved back to the area upon finishing her education.

Agnes enjoys treating a wide variety of orthopedic diagnoses and believes in using effective and individualized interventions to facilitate a full recovery. While growing up, Agnes had the opportunity to participate in a wide variety of activities, including: soccer, cross country, and martial arts. Her experience and involvement in a wide range of disciplines has sparked her interest in rehabilitative medicine and fuels her passion for continued growth and learning as a therapist.
