Profile

Jennifer Brenczewski, PT, DPT, a Chicagoland native, has been practicing in orthopedics for over ten years and has been a physical therapist at the Glenview, Lincoln Park and Chicago Loop locations of Illinois Bone & Joint Institute. She enjoys the collaborative care model IBJI strives to achieve, and works closely with physicians for an optimal patient outcome.

Jenn has taken a particular interest in the foot and ankle, but enjoys treating a wide variety of diagnosis'. Through continuing education she has earned a certification in Pilates. She also enjoys making custom orthotics and practices, and teaches, barefoot running with Chicago area runners. Jenn can also perform video gait analysis to improve your form or alleviate pain with running. Jenn is also expanding her practice to include women's health physical therapy. Please see our website for more details on this program.

She spends most of her time treating patients, and is part of the Foot and Ankle Therapy focus group and has educated in multiple seminars through IBJI and at various shoe stores.
