ABOUT THE ORCHESTRA:

The Orchestra has 75 full-time musicians and performs a wide range of concerts each year. Each season normally starts at the end of January and ends in the middle of December. During the Christmas/New Year period, between seasons, the Orchestra members take annual leave. Apart from normal concert performances, the ASO plays for the Adelaide seasons of the Australian Ballet and for the State Opera of South Australia. In addition, the ASO makes CD recordings and performs a range of popular, learning/community engagement and outdoor activities. See the www.aso.com.au website for details of the year's programs. In 1998 the ASO performed three cycles of Wagner's complete "Ring of the Nibelung" with State Opera SA and repeated them in late 2004.

ABOUT ADELAIDE:

Adelaide is the capital city of the state of South Australia. It has a population of 1.3 million. The climate is described as "Mediterranean" with warm to hot summers and relatively mild winters. The city is noted for its relaxed lifestyle, good beaches and relatively low cost of living. Several of Australia's major wine regions are close to Adelaide and the city is well known for its excellent food and large number of restaurants. Adelaide is also the home of Australia's largest international arts festival. There are three universities in the Adelaide city and nearby suburbs and many ASO musicians teach at the University of Adelaide.

The University of SA has an excellent website which provides other useful information on living in Adelaide, see: <http://www.unisa.edu.au/Student-Life/Living-in-Adelaide/>. Another good site is <http://www.livingin-australia.com/living-in-adelaide/>
