

Third Quarter, 2013

Dear Praying Friend,

Thank you for your love and prayers for our family. Your prayers for us brought the Lord blessings on our work with World Wide New Testament Baptist Missions.

My daily goal is to be available to God to advance the cause of missions by witnessing, training students, evangelizing the lost, enlisting laborers, assisting churches, and equipping missionaries.

During the months of July to September, I assisted seven churches with their missions' conference needs. I also assisted three missions agencies with preaching, training, and encouraging missionaries. I was able to assist a college with their missions classes. These times are special as I am working with college students burdened, called, and seeking God's place of service for them. It is a blessing to also help churches fulfill their missions goals for giving in Faith Promise missions.

Because of your support, God allowed me to help one of our former missionary's children during a difficult time. I counseled with a couple about staying in the work of missions and not quitting. I spoke with four students as they are making their preparations to go to the field with our agency. These things happen because of you.

It blesses my heart to know many of you bring our name before the Lord regularly. We ask you to continue to pray for safety, strength for the journey, and good health. God bless you for your interest and investment in missions.

Serving Him,

John O'Malley
