Dear Praying Friend,

Seeing the goodness of the Lord is evidence to us of your prayers and investments. Just saying "thank you" seems so inadequate. We are very grateful. We realize that without you we could not serve.

We just completed our mission agency's annual meeting. Missionaries and guests, in the highest attendance on record, came for a week of spiritual refreshing. The Lord met with us. It is a delight to assist in planning this meeting. The theme was Faithful till the End. The messages and tone of the meeting were reviving. The meeting was held at our home church, Faith Baptist Church, in Shelby, NC. Your support enabled me to help plan the meeting, encourage missionaries, and assist new missionaries in their deputation for the field.

The Lord did a wonderful thing in a missions conference that I must share with you. I do not remember anything like it. At a missions conference in Ocala, FL, the pastor chose to extend the meeting due to the work the Lord did in hearts. There was a true spirit of revival in that missions conference. The theme was Make me a Servant. Your support enabled me to help missionaries, church members, and guests find help in the Word of God. I spoke 14 times on the subject of being a servant. The church's Faith Promise surpassed the pastor's expectations; the new commitments now exceed $110,000.00.

In this work of missions, the Lord gives me opportunities for personal evangelism, the encouragement of laborers, developing skills in missionaries, strengthening churches, and preaching. The past two months have been some of the most exciting for me in recent days. Thank you for investing in the Lord's work.

This recent photo of my dear friend, Miss Pam Tomlin, reminds me of all of you. I recently visited Miss Pam. She told me she daily "rings the prayer bells of heaven" for our family. Were it not for Miss Pam, her mother, and hundreds like you doing the same, we could not serve the Lord in any capacity. Prayer moves the hand and heart of God. Thank you for praying for us. Pray for souls for our labor, fruit to abound to your account, safety as we travel, and good health.

Serving Him,

John O'Malley
