

Minsk Echoes Vinyl + Live Dates

Nothing rests, everything moves, everything vibrates

Bird Dialect is pleased to announce the long-awaited return of the psychedelic metal juggernaut known as Minsk. Having recently marked its 10th anniversary, the band is once again moving forward after an extended hiatus, finishing up some old business and moving on to the new.

First on the agenda is the vinyl release of With Echoes In The Movement Of Stone, the band's 2009 album on Relapse, never before pressed to wax. Listen to this sprawling opus the way it was intended to be heard: on vinyl, housed in a beautiful gatefold package.

The vinyl release of With Echoes will be followed by a string of live dates in July 2013: Peoria, Little Rock, Nashville, Milwaukee and Chicago. In addition, the band has a cache of new material up its sleeve, destined for future release. Stay tuned.

From the fortress to the river, arisen
Over plains and mountains
To the redwoods, the ocean, ENDURE.

Through turmoil and turbulence
Distance and time
For the wounded, recover, OVERCOME.

Still waters deceive
Enlisted, we dance
The fire burns, but hidden.

The promised land of prophecy was purgatory, too.
We convulsed and beat the earth.
Now the work and the world become one.

Renewed over myth, we forget what we know
Reborn, and grateful for the scars of battle
Sound the alarm, this city of truth to discover.

All rise, let us tremble
For the day is nigh at hand
We shall
