Learn the Business Side of Being a Practitioner and Thrive

with Joan Carra

Fee: $30

Being a practitioner, whether as an intuitive, energy healer or coach is a commitment, not only to help people but a commitment to being an entrepreneur. You may have abandoned the business world but in order to be self-sustaining, one must know the business end of self-employment. Joan started her own business as a psychic over 20 years ago. She not only uses her intuition and affirmations to project job opportunities, techniques that she will share but, as a former bookkeeper she can teach you practical knowledge you need to run a business to your advantage. Do you know the expenses you may deduct on your taxes? Even your classes at A.R.E., books and certain meals can be deducted. Joan will teach you how to get free publicity, gain more clients and how to get recognized in books, magazines and newspapers. Joan is also an active networker and will help you connect to groups that want to introduce and promote you. This is a class that combines both practicality and spiritual insights into being in control as your own boss and thriving with the talents you love to share.
