

A New Resource from Gospel for Life:

Eight Life-changing Questions for Disciple-makers

What is the gospel?
Why is the gospel sufficient?
Who has the believer become in Christ?
What are the believer's spiritual resources?
What is life under the control of the Spirit?
What does it mean to be a true disciple of Christ?
What does it mean to fulfill the Great Commission?
How do you make a disciple of Christ?

What if every church member could confidently answer these questions from Scripture? Think of how much closer we would be to obeying our Lord's commands to build up one another (Rom 15:2); admonish each other (Rom 15:14); and speak the truth to one another (Eph 4:15).

How we need to be reminded that sanctification is a group effort. Progress toward spiritual maturity is tied to the contributions you and I make to the spiritual growth of our brethren. This is at the heart of the Great Commission: Body life in Christ exists to nurture disciples.

The eight questions in this new resource are designed to help you grow through mutual edification. The 'group effort' factor only occurs when we begin to exhort one another to gospel obedience. These "Eight Life-changing Questions" can help you move your conversations from mundane to edifying. That is exactly what is needed if we are to do the work of the ministry commanded in Ephesians 4:11-16.

Are you ready to leave the sidelines, to get out of the starting blocks and run the race with endurance? Then consider making the answers to these questions a part of your encouragement to the brethren. You will never be the same if you do so, and you will experience the joy of serving as Christ's instrument in blessing others unto eternal glory.
