

This Is the Place for All North American Rail Workers!

Welcome to Railroad Workers United!

North American railroad workers are divided into different unions based on their craft of work and on some short lines, workers are not unionized at all. In the US alone there are thirteen unions representing railroad workers with several more unions in Canada.

We feel that history has shown that as long as we remain so divided we cannot effectively fight for our jobs and job conditions. So we have formed this inter-union, cross-craft, solidarity "caucus" of railroad workers from all crafts, all carriers, and all unions across North America.

We say every railroad worker should be actively involved in his/her union AND belong to RWU in order to build the strength and solidarity to protect our lives and jobs.

Please take the time to look over the site and look at our flyers and other literature. Read over the Frequently Asked Questions \(FAQ\). Please read our "Statement of Principles".

You can help and play an important part in making a difference. Together, we can build unity, democracy, and solidarity among ALL railroaders in North America. Please
