

JST INSTITUTE
Home of the Journal of Systemic Therapies
Training & education in brief collaborative and narrative practices for professionals, communities & organizations

Announcing New Training Events!

<http://jstinstitute.com/>

Expand your understanding of collaborative, person centered Brief Narrative Therapy.

Enrich your practice by learning effective, respectful and innovative ways of working with people.

Take advantage of our early bird rates! * Additional 10% discount available for group registration of 5 or more.

Single-Session Therapy:

Accessible, Ethical, Practical

Jim Duvall, M.Ed, RSW

This comprehensive 1-day introductory workshop will provide participants with the assumptions, principles and practices necessary to conduct single-session therapy and learn ethical ways of giving people the help they need, when they need it. Learn ways of shaping conversations that encourage resonance and engagement and how to create questions that generate experience. There will be an emphasis on developing a meaningful partnership between the therapist and the people seeking consultation.

Friday, Dec.1, 2017

Regular Rate: $150.00;

Early Bird Rate: $120.00 (deadline Oct. 27, 2017)

Student rate: $95.00

Galveston Island, TX

A 3-Day Certificate Course Brief Narrative Therapy:

Single session, walk-in clinics, briefer therapy

Karen Young, MSW, RSW
& Jim Duvall M.Ed RSW

This 3-day interactive training experience will be engaging and energizing. With an emphasis on hands-on (practice, practice, practice) micro-skill development, there will be numerous opportunities to rehearse through practice-based exercises. Presentation of innovative theoretical concepts, recorded examples of sessions, skill building exercises, and comprehensive training handouts will be used to provide you with a rich training experience you can apply to your practice immediately.

Thurs to Sat (May 17-19, 2018)

Regular Rate: $375.00

Early Bird Rate: $335.00 (deadline April 15, 2018)

Student Rate: $270.00

Galveston Island, TX

Limited student work exchange scholarships available for each workshop.

Please email info@jstinstitute.com to request an application form.

Jim Duvall is the Co-Director and co-founder of JST INSTITUTE. He has over three and a half decades of experience as an educator, trainer, consultant and author. Jim is recognized for his practice and research involvement in brief and narrative practices. His work emphasizes collaborating with people within their social context, often working with them to break free from the constraints of master narratives, while integrating therapeutic practices within a philosophy of social justice. He has served as the Senior Editor of the Journal of Systemic Therapies for over 10 years. He is Co-Founder and previous Co-Director, along with Karen Young, of the Windz Institute, which operates in Oakville, Ontario. Previously Jim served for over 20 years as the Director of Training and Education at Hincks-Dellcrest Institute in Toronto, Ontario and previous Director of Brief Therapy Training Centres-International. Jim has spent over 200 hours studying and collaborating in training, writing and community projects with Michael White.

Karen Young is the Director of the Windz Institute, operated by ROCK, Reach Out Centre for Kids' Centre of Learning. She is an institute faculty teaching many of the Windz workshops and certificate programs. She provides supervision to interns, organizes and designs training, oversees research projects, and for over 14 years has supervised and provided single session therapy at the ROCK walk-in therapy clinic. Karen has provided consultation and clinical training to many organizations in Ontario, across Canada, and internationally regarding re-structuring service pathways to include brief services such as walk-in clinics. She has been teaching narrative and brief narrative therapy for over 25 years and is a therapist with 30 years of experience working with children and families.