

Scientists/ Engineers in the Classroom

Our volunteers are “experts” in areas applicable to all grade levels. These include: dinosaurs, bridge design, computers, and robotics; just to name a few. One thing is for sure, they are all eager to be involved in the educational community.

Convenient online ordering on our Praxis website. Your request will be matched with the appropriate volunteer from our data base. Any questions, please email us or give us a

The Science & Technology Hotline is Southeastern Alberta's vital link to the scientific and educational communities.

The Praxis Science Network's vision is to provide positive science experiences to the residents of South-eastern Alberta, especially youth, through the provision of access to science and technology resources.

The best feature of the Science and Technology Hotline is that it is absolutely FREE.
