Since opening our doors in 2007, The Women’s Initiative has served over 15,000 people, providing care to 3,375 in 2015.
“TWI is a wonderful organization that deeply cares about their patients. I always felt very welcome there. You really have a lovely group of therapists and staff.” - 2015 Client
Who We Are

Mission
Our mission is to provide women with effective counseling, social support and education so they can transform life challenges into positive change and growth.

Vision
All women in our community will have access to innovative, effective, evidence-based mental health care.

Values
We believe every woman has an innate capacity for healing that, once uncovered and directed, results in better mental and physical health. We believe it is critical to address each woman’s unique emotional, physical and spiritual needs.

Affordability
We provide a sliding scale as low as $5 per session, and no one is turned away because of inability to pay.

Accessibility
We provide free walk-in clinics, satellite offices, childcare, and multilingual treatment to ensure all women can access care.

Cultural Competence
There are very few diverse mental health professionals in Central Virginia. Often we are the primary resource for culturally competent mental health care.

Efficacy
Women heal at The Women’s Initiative. Our outcome measurements show that over 80% of clients see improvement — higher than national trends.
Dear Friends,

“You saved my life.”

These words, shared with us by so many of our clients, are behind all we do at The Women’s Initiative. These words are the reason we come to work every day. They are the reason our donors are so generous with their financial investments. They are the reason our volunteers are so giving of their time.

The Women’s Initiative is now the second largest provider of mental health treatment to low-income, uninsured women. We are so proud to be a primary cornerstone of care in this community—for people with depression, anxiety, and other debilitating disorders; for those enduring grief, illness, and trauma; for those who cannot find care elsewhere because of financial limitations, language, or other barriers.

There is much to be proud of and much work yet to be done. It is my hope that what you read here will inspire you to continue your support or join us for the first time in ensuring access to vital mental health resources for women in this community.

With deep appreciation,

Elizabeth Irvin, LCSW, Executive Director

Who We Serve

The Women’s Initiative was founded in response to the profound need for mental health care for low-income women who are either uninsured or underinsured.

- We are the number one service for low-income mothers.
- We are often the only mental health resource available to Latina and African American women.
- We are a community leader in building pathways to care for immigrant and refugee women.

Individual and group counseling is at the heart of our work. In 2015, The Women’s Initiative reached 757 women in counseling, providing nearly 3,600 individual sessions.

Our therapists use evidence-based therapeutic approaches to meet the unique needs of each client, including:

- cognitive behavioral therapy,
- psychodynamic therapy,
- eye movement desensitization reprocessing (EMDR),
- interactive guided imagery, and
- stress management techniques.

“The therapy sessions allowed me to share my feelings and thoughts in a non-judgmental atmosphere. As a result, I was able to work through the depression and anxiety I was feeling to concentrate on finding employment.”

FROM OUR CLIENTS: Do I feel... an increase in sense of well-being? 78% yes
  an improvement in interpersonal relationships? 79% yes an increase in overall well-being? 81% yes

FROM OUR CLINICIANS: Did the client... show decreased symptoms? 74% yes

The best way to reach women in need is to be present where they live, work and feel most comfortable. Our outreach activities in the community—everything from tabling at local festivals to holding play groups at community centers to inviting women to share their stories for our annual Challenge into Change Writing Contest—are often the way women first learn that our services exist. Our presence in these public spaces helps reduce the stigma surrounding mental health treatment and increase the likelihood that a woman will access a higher level of care if needed.

In 2015, we grew the number of people who participated in our education programs by 27 percent over the previous year. For instance, we taught mindfulness stress reduction techniques to JABA participants.

We’re proud to say that, in 2015, we collaborated with every one of the agencies at Jefferson School City Center as well as expanded programs in underserved communities like Westhaven and Southwood. By strengthening our relationships in these places, we’re building the trust necessary to provide mental health treatment.

“Thank you for a healing experience.” - 2015 Client
Social Support

Strong social support networks are highly correlated with overall health and wellness. The Social Support Program at The Women’s Initiative aims to reduce isolation and to promote the development of meaningful social support through low-barrier, accessible opportunities that help build community in non-clinical contexts.

Our 2015 offerings included:
- Afghan Women’s Tea Group
- Creative Expressions Art Group
- Knitting Group
- HeartMath
- Breathe, Silent Meditation
- Art Receptions

The Living Room space continued to be a supportive and safe place for women to relax and enjoy our lending library. Our Living Room also continued to serve as a hub for community groups in need of meeting space, such as the Mothering Circle of Charlottesville, Common Thread Craft Cooperative, and PFLAG’s support groups for trans-identified individuals and their families.

This past year, the Social Support program introduced new offerings to support the needs of underserved and marginalized groups, and we hope to grow the number of offerings that celebrate and support the diverse needs of all women in our community.

“You helped me gain confidence back. You gave me an outlet to let things out, therefore helped me process things.” - 2015 Client
In 2015 our Bienestar program continued to provide crucial services in mental health counseling, education and outreach to Latina women in Charlottesville and surrounding counties. The consistency of our presence means that more Spanish-speaking women can access mental health treatment that would otherwise be out of their reach because of financial and language barriers.

Latina women immigrate to the United States in order to reunite with relatives, escape violence, or simply to improve their families’ quality of life. They are extremely resilient. Nonetheless, the journey of migration, isolation and cultural adjustment to a new country can be incredibly difficult. At Bienestar, our bilingual therapists help women dealing with depression, anxiety and trauma through trauma-informed modalities such as eye movement desensitization reprocessing (EMDR). Bienestar is also involved in broader community efforts to support the Latino community, for instance by organizing Cultural & Linguistic Competence Training in conjunction with Creciendo Juntos and the Virginia Department of Behavioral Health & Developmental Services.

Bienestar exemplifies The Women’s Initiative’s values of increasing capacity and accessibility to all women and embracing cultural humility.

“I am satisfied, very satisfied because you saved my life and therefore the lives of my children.”

We are fortunate to have such strong relationships with so many social-service agencies, neighborhoods, nonprofits, and other organizations. These connections enable us to form new relationships, ensure unduplicated services, and strengthen the community’s safety net as a whole.
Your Support Makes All the Difference

We are proud to serve our community alongside our amazing supporters—the individuals, nonprofits, and businesses large and small that contribute so significantly to our ability to do our work.

Two-thirds of our revenue comes from individual gifts and sponsorships from this community. The life-saving mental health services for women in need are made possible by—indeed would not be possible without—this incredible generosity.

Our volunteers do such crucial work. Administrative volunteers work at the front desk and make our clients feel welcome in our office. Fundraising committee members manage every detail of our successful Girls’ Night Out and Family Barn Party events. Pro-bono therapists take on caseloads, increasing our capacity to help women in need. Members of Board committees help govern the agency. We are so grateful to our incredible volunteers for their dedication and their service.
