

Lucy Bailey-Wright

Freelance director, trainer and project manager

I am Fourth Wall's Creative Director, currently working on running an extensive training programme and developing theatre at Winterborne House and Garden. For nearly 10 years I was the company manager and production director for Stage2 youth theatre. I am a Committee member of Birmingham and District Theatre Guild (BDTG) and Festival Host for Birmingham Festival of Music and Acting Entertainment (BFAME).

As trainer and facilitator for Birmingham Museum and Art Galleries youth forum IGNITE I worked on body image and tattoo exhibitions. I also work on events for the National Trust and am a proud ambassador for their Prejudice and Pride Programme, exploring LGBTQ histories.

I am the Chair of Birmingham Twins Club and a music and sign language teacher for babies and toddlers. I am passionate about making history relevant and providing opportunities for young people to be active and dynamic.
