

Simon M Woods

Company Director of Fourth Wall working on strategy, delivery and partnerships. An experienced producer, entrepreneur and manager who has worked in film, music, arts, theatre and education. He founded film production company European Drama Network working extensively in Sardinia, was CEO of Birmingham School of Acting which he merged with Birmingham City University and where he created the BRUMMIEWOOD short film project. He was the original manager of reggae group UB40 setting up the record company Dep International, managed the art house group Swans way, devised and taught a course on music business management in Handsworth and was marketing manager of the Birmingham arts centre MAC. He studied Fine Art at Hornsey and Sculpture at Birmingham School of Art, has a Masters Degree in Public Administration from Warwick Business School and is a Fellow of Birmingham School of Acting. Born in London, raised and poorly educated in Surrey he has lived in Soho, Birmingham, Sassari, Beoley and currently Henley in Arden.

Wikipedia: Simon M Woods
IMDB: Simon Woods II
Movies: europeandrama.com