Four Types of Bullying: Physical, Verbal, Social/Emotional, & Cyber

Essential Questions
- What is bullying?
- What are the types of bullying?
- How do I change the bullying behavior?

Learning Intention / Overview
Bullying has become a very popular word amongst school age children. However, this word is often misunderstood. Bullying is action(s) repeated over and over again by an individual or group of people with the intent to harm either physically, verbally, socially (emotionally), or through cyber sources. This lesson will discuss and explore the different types of bullying and provide students with the opportunity to identify the various types.

Methods / Teaching Strategies
- Group work
- Poster Project
- Personalized Learning

Assessment of Learning
- Bully Worksheet (provided)
- Poster Project created by student
- Demonstrated an understanding of the four types of bullying.

Activity 1:

1. Begin by showing students the meaning for the four types of bullying. Discuss each type and provide a few examples of each. (definition sheet included) Teachers can also utilize online resources to show types of bullying and how to change the behavior(s).

2. Distribute “The Four Types of Bullying” worksheet for students to complete independently. Read and discuss the directions for the sheet.

3. If time allows take up worksheet and begin Activity 2.

Activity 2: (This activity will take more than one day.)

Review with students the four types of bullying.

Students will choose a type of bullying to illustrate in a poster. The poster should clearly depict ONE of the four types of bullying through pictures, text, etc.

Activity 3: On the back of the poster list 3 positive ways to change the bullying that is being displayed on the poster. (tell adult, walk away, speak up and defend yourself, stick with a buddy, etc.)

Activity 4: Students will present posters to a younger group of children and explain what is happening in their individual poster. Emphasize the type of bullying occurring in the poster and how to change that behavior.
