

The Library's public meeting rooms are provided for the benefit of all and may be used by a publicly recognized organization as the space is available. A publicly recognized organization is one which is incorporated, holds regular meetings, and/or is affiliated with an incorporated organization.

Public meeting rooms are provided free of charge and may be used for private meetings or public programs whose purposes are literary, educational, philanthropic, or civic. Public meeting rooms are not to be used for the purpose of presenting a program to the general public unless that program has been approved by the Director. Programs offered in the room must be open to all.

Permission granted to use public meeting rooms in no way constitutes endorsement of the policies or beliefs of any group or organization.

To use a Library meeting room an application must be submitted to the Library (see attachments). The Library reserves the right to deny applications for use based on the availability of space and/or the frequency or appropriateness of use as determined by the Director. The Library reserves the right to set aside meeting rooms during specific blocks of time for use by the Library staff. The Library is not responsible for costs incurred if a meeting is canceled due to circumstances beyond the Library's control.

Rules governing use of Library meeting rooms by outside groups:

- Public meeting rooms may be used only during Library hours unless approved by the Director.
- Groups must vacate the meeting room at least ten minutes before the closing of the building.
- Library meeting rooms must be restored to their original condition at the conclusion of the event.
- Unlawful or inappropriate activity shall not be permitted in meeting rooms and such activity shall be a basis to deny future use of the public meeting rooms by any organization violating this policy.
- Meetings may be terminated if they are disruptive to Library services.
- Activities for minors, age 17 and under, must be supervised by responsible adults.
- Permission to use public meeting rooms is not transferable by any organization whose application is approved.
- Public meeting room users agree to pay for any and all damages to Library property incurred while the applicant is using such property.
- Light refreshments requiring no cooking may be served and shall be provided by the group. No smoking is allowed.
- Users are requested to bring their own easels, equipment, and materials, as the Library will not supply such.
- The Library is not responsible for any equipment, supplies, materials, clothing, or other items brought to the Library by any group or individual attending a meeting.
- The use of Library equipment such as a piano, VCR/DVD player, video projector, or laptop computer may be requested when applying for the use of a room.
