Adiga, Aravind	Last Man in Tower	South Asian story of the cupidity of most men when offered a windfall of money. Lots of good Indian characters. I listened to it and the reader was wonderful. Thought the ending a bit drawn out.
Ainslie, Ricardo C.	The Fight to Save Juarez: Life in the Heart of Mexico's Drug War	Excellent narrative from 2008-2010 of life and death in Juarez, the people who made it hell and those who fought the impossible.
Ainslie, Ricardo C.	No Dancin' in Anson July '15	Delves into race and social change in small town West Texas. A readable, informative and sad book
Ainslie, Ricardo C.	Long Dark Road	Tough, about Bill King and Jasper, TX racial murder. RA skillful writer on dark subjects.
Allende, Isabel	Daughter of Fortune June 2015	First Allende book, ok-ish, easy read, but won't try another.
Angell, Tony	The House of Owls June 2015	Angell lives surrounded by wild owls in the Pacific NW. Fun stories and good review of species. Excellent illustrations done on scratchboard.
Aslan, Reza	Zealot	Interesting, short, about historical, not spiritual Jesus and early Christianity.
Atkinson, Kate	A God in Ruins	Excellent WWII RAF story told in KA's impeccable time-shift prose. Same characters as Life after Life.
Atkinson, Kate	Life after Life	Spanning 1910 to end of WWII, Ursula's life repeats. Interesting premise, well developed.
Atkinson, Kate	Case Histories	Swept me right up into its well-crafted multi-plot. Good writing, fun characters.
Atkinson, Kate	One Good Turn, Jackson Brodie, Book 2	Jackson seems to sort of go along rather than controlling the plot. Not satisfying.
Atwood, Margaret	In the Wake of the Flood	Dystopian novel, but well told. Not a genre I usually read.
Axelrod, David	Believer: My Forty	Listened, read by author.

	Years in Politics August 2015	Informative memoir.
Balz, Dan	Collision 2012: Obama vs. Romney and the Future of Elections in America	Good read about the election and how the Republicans doomed themselves and how intelligently the Dems used predictive data.
Banks, Russell	The Reserve	Novel of rich people who vacation in The Reserve in upstate NY. Prior to WWI. Not his best.
Banks, Russell	Lost Memory of Skin	Listened – excellent book about a sex offender and the enigmatic man who befriends him – what a character Banks builds.
Barash, Susan Shapiro	Toxic Friends	Waste of time. Might be of use to younger woman – seemed an idea forced into a format.
Barbary, Muriel	Elegance of the Hedgehog	Slow start, but it builds – two inhabitants of an exclusive Parisian apartment house; a young girl and the concierge.
Barker, Pat	Regeneration	Book 1 of trilogy about WWI. I learned from this series.
Barker, Pat	The Eye in the Door	Book 2 of trilogy about WWI and the horrors of war. Clean, sparse writing.
Barker, Pat	The Ghost Road	Book 3 of trilogy about WWI – and the best. Won Booker Prize.
Barnes, Julian	Sense of Ending	2011 Booker Prize – dreadful little book, not a prizewinner at all. Memoir of a man and three friends from high school.
Barnes, Margaret Campbell	King's Fool May 2016	Tudor-history lite. Henry's court jester, Will Somers, did live 20 + years with the king, so you see the broad sequence of eight queens and Henry's progress from virile swain to portly invalid.
Benioff, David	City of Thieves	Clever story about two young men during the Siege of Leningrad who must find 12 eggs to live.

Boo, Katherine	Behind the Beautiful Forever	Wonderfully told true story of life in the Mumbai slums.
Boyd, William	Armadillo	Excellent book about son of immigrants who creates a new successful life for himself, only to lose it – or maybe find it.
Boyd, William	The Blue Afternoon Dec 2015	Romance/mystery set in Philippines after Sp/Am war. Easy read, somewhat preposterous, excellent writer.
Boyd, William	An Ice-Cream War	Excellent book about a border town in Africa in WWII when some fight for the British and some for the Germans.
Boyd, William	A Good Man in Africa	First novel – fun story, verbose but charming.
Boyd, William	The New Confessions May 2015	Life of narcissistic film director – good read, older book
Boyd, William	Solo	Boyd worked with the Ian Fleming estate to create a thriller in the Fleming style, not the movie style. He succeeded, but the story is not great.
Boyd, William	Ordinary Thunderstorms	Good murder mystery by a skillful writer.
Boyd, William	Restless	Great writing – about a WWII spy and her adult daughter. Story told through flashbacks.
Boyd, William	Waiting for Sunrise	Good WWI military thriller set mostly in England.
Boyle, TC	When The Killings Done	Novel about the Catalina Islands off CA. Takes no prisoners or sides about wildlife preservation and island biodiversity.
Boyle, TC	The Tortilla Curtain	For me, his best book. Funny and heartbreaking.

Boyle, TC	The Women	Wives of Frank Lloyd Wright – all intelligent women and why they loved him is a mystery. Interesting read, but no Tortilla Curtain.
Boyle, TC	Water Music	Fun read about British explorer in Africa.
Boyle, T. C.	The Harder They Come June 2015	Repercussions of 20+ year-old schizophrenic on family and community. Not his best.
Boyle, TC	Drop City	Hippies invade Alaska – in a school bus. Yet another good read.
Boyle, TC	World's End	Fun romp in the history of the Hudson River Valley.
Boyle, TC	A Friend of the Earth	Great story about the apocalypse coming with global warming.
Boyle, TC	The Road to Wellville	Kellogg cereals come to live in central Michigan. Not his greatest.
Boyle, TC	The Inner Circle	Kinsey's sex studies at Indiana U as told from the POV of an assistant. Such boring people.
Boyle, TC	East Is East	My first Boyle book – about discrimination and self-interest. Fun
Boyle, TC	Talk, Talk	Sort of mystery genre about a deaf woman – makes you appreciate the gift of hearing and communication.
Boyle, TC	San Miguel	Second book about Catalina Islands. Interesting, but not gripping.
Boyne, John	The Absolutist	Repressed and barely expressed homosexuality in Britain circa WWI. Well written
Brandt, Richard	One Click: Jeff Bezos and the Rise of Amazon	Good bio of an ecommerce pioneer.
Brooks, Geraldine	Caleb's Crossing	First Native American to graduate from Harvard – in 1665! A nicely spun novel based on thin historical fact. Brooks does well in factually representing living conditions in MA at the time.

Brown, Nic	Floodmarkers	Series of connected short stories about town people in North Carolina as Hurricane Hugo sweeps across their inland town in 1989. Interesting, quick read.
Buck, Pearl S.	Imperial Woman Dec, 2015	Last empress of China, Tzu Hsi, mid-18th century China forced to trade with West. Elegant historical fiction.
Buckley, Christopher	Supreme Courtship	Light, didactic novel about a TV judge who is appointed to the Supreme Court. Would make a lovely movie.
Burton, Gabrielle	Impatient with Desire	Fictionalized memoir/journal of Tamsen Donner and The Donner Party. Short, easy to read and gripping.
Burton, Jessie	The Miniaturist	Amsterdam, 1686 – story of young bride and gay husband in moralistic Holland (how times have changed). Well written, but “the miniaturist” not well enough developed.
Butler, Robert Olen	A Good Scent from a Strange Mountain	Magnificent short stories written by a LA college prof regarding the Vietnamese immigrants living in Louisiana
Butler, Robert Olen	A Small Hotel	Excellent written – flows like a stream – flashback story of a marriage breaking up – mostly because husband and wife think silence is the virtue – as a result of their individual relationships with fathers. All’s well that ends well.
Canin, Ethan	A Doubter’s Almanac: A Novel Aug 2016	Mathematicians gone crazy. Loved this book about math, decisions, bad families.
Carey, Peter	Parrot and Olivier in America	Good yarn about foreigner visitors to the US in the early 19 th century.

Chabon, Michael	The Amazing Adventures of Kavalier & Clay	Lives of comic book writers working in the Empire State Building – such an imaginative story.
Chabon, Michael	The Yiddish Policemen's Union	Such an imagination! At the end of WWII, Jews are sent to Sitka, AK where they create a colony for 50 years – and this is the end of its term.
Chabon, Michael	The Final Solution	Novella – homage to Sir Arthur Conan Doyle
Chabon, Michael	Gentlemen of the Road	10 th century Silk Road tale featuring Jewish bandits! Fun for all in YA genre.
Chacón, Daniel	Hotel Juarez	Some stories so short, they are vignettes; others connected in a way that leaves you wanting more.
Chacón, Daniel	and the shadows took him	Didn't know how I felt about it until I read a paper by a JC Latino student who so connected with this story – and that is ideal.
Chopin, Kate	The Awakening July 2015	Turn of the 20 th cen chick lit – nice writing, but vacuous protagonist.
Cisneros, Sandra	The House on Mango Street August 2015	Surprising, short vignettes. Beautifully crafted, totally approachable by all.

DuBus III, Andre	Dirty Love	Four novellas, good writing, but like most DuBus, are humorless and depressing.
Dyer, Goeff	Jeff in Venice, Death in Varanasi	A pointless tale of a pointless life. Good writing, humorous and ironic, but Jeff goes nowhere, either in Venice or India.
Dugard, Jaycee	A Stolen Life	Kidnapped at 11, found at 29 with two daughters by a sex offender. Amazing story of resilience.
Edrich, Louise	The Plague of Doves	American Indians living in North Dakota, reminiscences of antagonism between whites and Indians, who intermarry and share history. So-so.
Ellis, Brett Easton	Imperial Bedrooms	Typical Ellis about people I don't care about. Same characters as Less Than Zero, 20 years later. 40ish man lusts after young women, ugh.
Ephron, Nora	I Remember Nothing	Light Essays. Fun for oldsters – and then she died.
Ehrenreich, Barbara	Nickel and Dimed: On (Not) Getting by in America July 2015	14 years old and relevant today – if not more so; the working poor and the high cost of housing. Read it.
Evans, Stephanie Jaye	Faithful Unto Death: A Sugarland Mystery	Charming mystery, set in Sugar Land, TX, where they solver is a minister and family man. Enjoyed it. Stephanie is a client.
Evans, Stephanie Jaye	Safe From Harm	Charming sequel that made me laugh out loud in places, even though the murder is of a teenager.
Faber, Michael	The Book of Strange New Things: A Novel	Excellent, strange story of love, distance and self-absorption

Lalami, Laila	The Moore's Account August 2015	Historical fiction lite. Story of Moorish slave who survived eight years beginning 1527 with three Spainards, traveling from Florida to Mexico via land.
Larson, Erik	In the Garden of Beasts	Non-fiction story of US Ambassador to Berlin 1934-38. He and his daughter kept extensive journals on which it is based. Excellent early Nazi history.
Larson, Erik	Devil in the White City	Excellent fictionalized story about serial killer at time of 1893 Chicago World's Fair. Vivid background about building the fair pavilions.
Larson, Erik	Thunderstruck May 2015	Good history of Marconi and wireless – interwoven with murder/romance. I enjoyed this book.
Larson, Erik	Dead Wake: The Last Crossing of the Lusitania May 2015	Excellent creative non-fiction – full of interesting characters and the follies of war politics and policies.
Latimer, Matthew	Speech-less: Tales of a White House Survivor	Fun book about Republican speech writer for George W.
Lee, Janice Y K	The Piano Teacher	Hong Kong – WWII and before. Expats and their relations with Chinese. Good story, parts not well developed.
Lehane, Dennis	The Given Day	Boston at end of WWI – novel of rich and poor. Did not enjoy
Lethem, Jonathan	Chronic City	Hated this book and only read about ¼ then gave it to DBH, who liked it.

		Deals with worthless people living worthless lives.
Lively, Penelope	Road to Litchfield	Easy read about woman who has an affair while dealing with death of her father.
Lively, Penelope	How It All Began	Beautifully choreographed book about how small changes make big differences – good fiction read.
Lively, Penelope	Family Album	Rather dull book about large family – all unsympathetic characters.
Lively, Penelope	The Road to Litchfield	Heartbreaking book about death and life and love.
Lively, Penelope	Moon Tiger	Won the Booker, but I did not like this book at all.
Lively, Penelope	Heat Wave	Excellent book about love and passion.
Lively, Penelope	The Photograph	Excellent book about learning the unknown past about a parent.
Lochery, Neill	Lisbon: War in the Shadows of the City of Light, 1939-1945	Fascinating story of how this country remained neutral; ended the war with tons of gold. Smart man, Dictator Salazar.
Lome, Steven and Kramer, David	The $500 Cup of Coffee May 2016	Great money book for millennials.
Lovesey, Peter	The Stone Wife June 2015	Ordinary police procedural – enjoyed the Chaucer references
Macdonald, Helen	H Is for Hawk April, 2016	Wonderful memoir about falconry, grief and author T.H. White
Magnuson, James	Famous Writers I Have Known July 2015	Fun, easy read about academic literary world and an impersonator from the underside of NYC.
Mahfouz, Naguib	Sugar Street	Third of trilogy (I've not read the first two) about families in Cairo in between WWI and WWII. Sad. Enlightening about Muslim Brotherhood, role of women, why Egypt is doomed.
Mandel, Emily St. John	Station Eleven June 2015	Twenty years post-apocalypse, a road story about musicians and actors who kill and perform to

Mann, Charles C.	1493: Uncovering the New World Columbus Created	Excellent social history of the world after the discovery of the new world. Everyone should read it.
Mann, Charles C.	1491: New Revelations of the America before Columbus	Totally new to most of us history of Indians in North and South America before 1492 and a little after. Everyone should read it.
Mantel, Hillary	Wolf Hall	Henry VIII and Anne Boleyn from the pov of Thomas Cromwell. Excellent historical novel
Mantel, Hillary	Bring Up the Bodies	Sequel to Wolf Hall – an easier read, excellent historical novel
Manto, Saadat Hasam	Bombay Stories	Mostly excellent stories about low lifes in Bombay before partition. Manto died in 1955, having resettled in Pakistan.
Murakami, Haruki	The Strange Library	Magical little book, bound with beautiful prints – all about finding the way...
Martel, Yann	Life of PI	Interesting, well written. Good look at East Indian life
Massey, Robert K.	Catherine the Great	Engrossing history of Catherine from birth to ambitious nobility in Germany, to marrying her awful Russian husband, Peter, to his overthrow with help of Orloffs and her later years as admirer of young men and astounding Empress. Well told tale.
Mathis, Anaya	The Twelve Tribes of Hattie June 2015	Listened. Good for 1st novel, but characters stereotypical or not well developed. Did not engage for me.
Matthiessen, Peter	The Cloud Forest	First person narrative of a huge journey from North America, up the Amazon, around South America and back.
Matthiessen, Peter	At Play in the Fields of the Lord	Read The Cloud Forest , then read this novel based on author's time in the Amazon. Excellent book.
Matthiessen, Peter	The Tree Where Man	Written in the 70's about East Africa

	Was Born Jan, 2015	in the 60's. Haunting, sad, realistic, beautiful prose.
Maugham, W. Somerset	Ashenden: The British Agent Sept 2015	Short stories about WWI British spy. Great writing, contained, informed.
Maugham, W. Somerset	The Magician Oct. 2015	1908 gothic novel, so early work. Predictable. Listened, nothing great to tweet about it!
McCall, Guadalupe Garcia	Under the Mesquite	YA memoir of her mother's death from cancer, her family's immigration across the Rio Grande and Lupita's coming of age – all in blank verse. Wonderful book for YA facing family illness, especially Latinos.
McCullough, David	The Wright Brothers Nov. 2015	Excellent biography. Makes me proud to be an American.
McDougall, Christopher	Born to Run Dec, 2014	Fascinating, man as an evolved runner – think ultra marathon. Great read.
McEwan, Ian	Amsterdam	Terse tale of revenge, the only likeable character is dead. Good, quick read.
McEwan, Ian	On Chesil Beach	Small, sad story of impossibly uncommunicative people. Beautifully written, as usual.
McEwan, Ian	The Children Act April, 2014	Taut story of childless couple who separate and reconnect without learning anything.
McEwan, Ian	Sweet Tooth	About a 23 year old MI5 female. Just not compelling – woman too naive, could not relate to anyone in the story – bad attempt to write in the female gender – but McEwan's writing style is always fine.
McLain, Paula	Circling the Sun: A Novel Nov 2015	Romantic Beryl Markham story. Such an interesting woman, but a rather soapy book.
McLain, Paula	The Paris Wife	Fictionalized history of Hemingway and his first wife. Told from her POV. Interesting, not great.

McMorris, Kristina	The Edge of Lost March 2016	Drivel-ish novel about Irish boy coming to NY. Author packed way too much into the book and developed little.
Menaker, Daniel	My Mistake	Memoir of New York word and book man who worked at The New Yorker, Editor in Chief at Random House. Interesting slice into publishing world.
Messud, Claire	The Last Life	Pied-Noirs from Algeria who move to France during revolution and run a large coastal hotel. Interesting
Messud, Claire	The Hunters	Two novellas of dramatically different styles: one about a lonely, elderly immigrant in England and the other about a paranoid academic who seems to create problems where they don't exist – or do they?
Meyer, Philipp	The Son	Historical novel of Texas. Interesting plot vignettes jumping among generations in the same family. Good read 5/14
Mezrich, Ben	Sex on the Moon	Tale of Thad Roberts, NASA intern who stole moon rocks and tried to sell them on the internet. Good story, but I'm not personally enriched from knowing Thad.
Mitchell, David	Thousand Autumns of Jacob DeZoot	Excellent historical novel about Dutch in Japan at turn of 17 th century.
Moore, Charles	Margaret Thatcher: The Authorized Biography	Vol 1 of 3. Too dense and granular. I struggled to finish 760 pages.
Montifiore, Simon Sebag	Young Stalin	Dense but fascinating reading about the impoverished childhood of Joseph Djugashvili. Strong influence of wild west in Georgia on his criminal development – and the refinement of his character in Siberia.
Montifiore, Simon	Stalin: The Court of	Excellent, dense bio from Revolution

Sebag	the Red Czar	to death. So many to kill, so little time and so little reason...
Moody, Rick	Purple America	Disjointed, but interesting story of woman suffering severe neurological disease and her son – right to die issues and nuclear energy!
Moore, Lorrie	A Gate at the Stairs	Awful book about a college student who nannies a foster/adopted multi-racial child who has to be given back because the “parents” inadvertently killed their own child. Author digresses constantly about race – worthless nonsense.
Montoya, Maceo	The Deportation of Wopper Barraza	Reverse plot – protagonist comes of age in Mexico after deportation at age 24. Not great, but very interesting.
Moreno-Hinojosa, Hernán	The Ghostly Rider and Other Chilling Stories	Ghostly folk stories from the valley of the Rio Grande – fun.
Morganstern, Erin	The Night Circus	Ethereal, spell binding novel about conjurers and contests. Loved it.
Morris, Sylvia Jukes	Rage for Fame: The Ascent of Clare Boothe Luce	Very readable bio – fascinating woman, but not lovable or perhaps even likable.
Morris, Sylvia Jukes	Price of Fame: The Honorable Clair Boothe Luce	Second half of an outstanding biography. An exceptionally strong and intelligent woman who let no one love her.
Morse, Eleanor	White Dog Fell from the Sky	Sad, tortured story about apartheid in the 70’s – good read, but probably ends too neatly.
Murphy, Louise	The True Story of Hansel and Gretel	Good writer – turns fairy tale into a Holocaust survival story
Murphy, Yannick	The Call	Simple, didactic, new writing style – warm characters – style slipped away a bit towards end, but I thoroughly enjoyed the read.

Obejas, Achy	Ruins	A unique trip into the hell that is Havana post-revolution from the pov of a "good soldier".
O'Neill, Joseph	Netherland	Good tale of married couple from the UK who witness 9-11 and the conflict it imprints on their lives – even though neither feel they were affected.
Nafisi, Azar	Things I've Been Silent About	Bitter memoir about a bitter mother, growing up in Tehran, ending up in the US.
O'Brien, Stacey	Wesley the Owl: A Remarkable 19 Year Love Story between a Girl And A Barn Owl May 2015	Amazing story, well told. A must for bird nerds and natural history buffs.
Otsuka, Julie	Buddaha in the Attic	Japanese picture brides who immigrate after WWI. Mostly written in first person plural. Poetry-like, sad.
Oufkir, Malink	Stolen Lives: 20 Years in a Desert Jail	Lesson: do not fall out of favor with the king of Morocco. Interesting, not great.
Pataki, Allison	The Accidental Empress Nov. 2015	Romantic historical fiction. Sisi's life and family are fascinating. Led me to read more about the Hapsburgs, but this book is a bit trivial.
Patel, Shona	Teatime for the Firefly	Informative story about life on a tea garden (plantation) in Assam, India 1940-49. First novel, promising author.
Pavone, Chris	The Expats	Light spy reading with few surprises.
Payton, Brian	The Wind Is Not a River	Aleutian Islands, WWII, novel about rogue reporter who crashes among the Japanese. Only WWII battle fought on US soil. Good, not great.

Plame, Valerie	Blowback	Run of the mill spy thriller. Plays off of Plame's CIA background.
Porter, Andres	The Theory of Light and Matter	Short stories – first book – several scenarios seemed repetitious. Liked Amish story.
Powers, Janis	Mama's Got a Brand New Job	30ish career woman learns to have it all after birth of baby.
Price, Richard	The Whites April 2015	Good police thriller – fast read.
Rachman, Tom	The Imperfectionists	Excellent first novel – a collection of related short stories. I loved it. 5/13
Rachman, Tom	The Rise and Fall of Great Powers	Bummer – struggled to finish it. Sad, disjointed story of child neglect as Toolie grows from 10 to adulthood and is summarily betrayed (with no hint of mawkishness) by those she loved.
Remini, Leah	Troublemaker Nov 2015	More than I ever wanted to know about Scientology. Remini is brave to leave and publicize this cult. Easy read.
Reyn, Irina	What Happened to Anna K	Retelling of Anna Karenina story among orthodox Jews in Queens. So-so.
Rice, Condoleezza	No Higher Honor	Apologia for her time with George W Bush. I felt she had recorded every encounter during her White House years and quoted verbatim. She does admit to her mistakes.
Rivers, Joan	I Hate Everyone, Starting with Me	Listened, good to hear her voice, but not a funny book. I miss her being in this world.
Robinson, Peter	In A Dry Season	British murder mystery. Well written, a good "beach read". 5/14

Rowling, J. K.	The Casual Vacancy	Overly involved, too many characters, all suffering from dysfunction, but not so the reader would care.
Rowling, J. K.	All the Harry Potter Books	Enjoyed them all.
Rushdie, Salman	Joseph Anton	Listened – long memoir of time spent under fatwa. Fascinating, but not involving. Written in third person...
Russo, Richard	That Old Cape Magic	Family story about the pull of Cape Cod on a difficult married couple and their only adult son. So-so
Ryan, Lesleyanne	Braco	Genocide in the Balkans, not an easy book, but well written by a woman who was there as a peacekeeper.
Sáenz, Benjamin Alire	Everything Begins & Ends at the Kentucky Club	I so wanted this to be a companion to Our Lost Border because it's about life on la Frontera . But I found it rather dull and overly gay for my taste. 6/13
Sáenz, Benjamin Alire	Aristotle and Dante Discover The Secrets of The Universe	YA fiction. Liked this so much more than Kentucky Club . Perhaps Sáenz style more suited to YA. About 2 young men (15 – 17) who are best friends and become gay lovers.
Samarasan, Preeti	Evening is the Whole Day	Beautifully crafted family story told in time reverse about a troubled Tamil Indian family living in Malaysia in the 1960's. Good history of race relations in Malaysia – or lack thereof.
Sansom, C J	Winter in Madrid	How life goes on during Spanish Civil War. Love story of reporter and medical volunteer. Interesting horrors about role of Church and war orphans

Schiff, Stacey	Cleopatra	Listened to it. Learned a lot about relations between Romans & Egyptians. Good history
Schteyngart, Gary	Super Sad True Love Story	The world in 2020 – 1984-ish, good writer but I personally did not like the story.
Sedaris, David	When You Are Engulfed in Flames	David takes us through his “change of life” from a cigarette smoking, alcoholic druggie to an almost boring ex-pat writer living in France. The essays are good in small doses.
See, Lisa	Dreams of Joy	Unexpectedly interesting story of headstrong young woman who goes to Mao's new China in the 50's to find her father.
Shusterman, Neal	Unwind	Really interesting YA book about how the dystopian world solves the right to life issue.
Simonson, Helen	Major Pettigrew's Last Stand: A Novel	Fun book, very British with rather hackneyed social, racial plot.
Skloot , Rebecca	The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks	Excellent scientific non-fiction about HeLa cells
Smiley, Jane	At Paradise Gate	Family story of three daughters who surround mother as father dies. Not her best.
Smith, Alexander McCall	The Limpopo Academy of Private Detection: No. 1 Ladies' Detective Agency March, 2015	Listened, sweet and satisfying book
Sotomayor, Sonya	My Beloved World	Loved it. Proud she is on the Supreme Court. Great audio by Rita Moreno.
Stielstra, Megan	Once I Was Cool August 2015	Winning, warm essays by Chicagoan who “makes it happen” in just a few pages.
Stoker, Bram	Dracula	Good story. It is gory. Could skim

Strycker, Noah	The Thing with Feathers	Delightful natural history tales of why birds are more human than we think.
Strout, Elizabeth	The Burgess Boys	Dysfunctional siblings learn lots about each other after nephew throws pig head into a mosque in small Maine town. Good book, but should have ended $\frac{3}{4}$ way through.
Suri, Manil	The City of Devi	Third of a series about urban India. I've read Death of Vishnu, a wonderful book. This is dystopian with a forced love triangle of Muslim/Hindu, gay/straight. I found it insignificant, sorry to say because Suri is a good, perhaps great, writer.
Taha, Lilas	Shadows of Damascus	Interesting romance involving an Iraq and a Syrian refugee – on a WI dairy farm. Good first novel.
Tekiela, Stan	Feathers	Beautifully photographed science-lite book about the six types of bird feathers
Tartt, Donna	The Goldfinch	Dickensian, very long and falls apart in the last 200 pages.
Theroux, Paul	Deep South Dec 2015	Excellent first hand insight into rural poverty and racism. Good read.
Tijpal, Garunj J.	Alchemy of Desire	Tedious love story using sexual desire as the unifying theme
Tobar, Héctor	Deep Down Dark	33 Chilean miners underground 69 days. Awesome story, well told.
Tóibín, Colm	The Testament of Mary	Read by Meryl Streep. Brilliant.
Tomlinson, Max	Sendero – A Nina Flores Thriller	Enjoyed it because I recently visited Peru. OK as a thriller, some good plot twists.
Tomsky, Jacob	Heads in Beds	Much fun story of a young man's experience in the hotel industry. Full of fun insider info.

Trollope, Anthony	The Belton Estate July, 2015	Written in 1860's-proud woman's loves and losses. Trollope a wonderful writer. Listened to Librivox recording.
Troncoso, Sergio	From This Wicked Patch of Dust	Fictionalized memoir of author's family based in El Paso.
Troncoso, Sergio	Crossing Borders	Collection of essays, some very personal, many about what it means to be a Latino writer who is the stay-at-home dad.
Troncoso, Sergio	The Last Tortilla and Other Stories	Short stories – good ones. My favorite is The Last Tortilla. Excellent expression of life among elderly in the barrio.
Turow, Scott	The Innocent	Good courtroom drama. Sequel to Presumed Innocent .
Turow, Scott	Identical	Exploration of identical twins. Good suspense tale and not too long.
Unsworth, Barry	Sacred Hunger	Excellent historical novel about shipwreck on FL coast in 18 th cen.
Unsworth, Barry	The Quality of Mercy	Sequel to Sacred Hunger focuses on the beginning of abolition in England. Books should be read in sequence.
Vaillant, John	The Jaguar's Children Dec 2015	Frame story is excellent, horrific. Analeptic corn and NAFTA story not so interesting as I am familiar with that history.
Vaillant, John	The Tiger: A True Story of Vengeance and Survival	A murder mystery and the perp is tiger. Good natural history book about Russian Amur tigers, the people who hunt and who save them.
Von Schirach, Ferdinand	Guilt Stories	Riveting true crime based on author's work as a German DA. Short, but not sweet.
