step 1 – using your iron, press your fat quarters into 7.5" squares and stack together.

step 2 – using the template on the following page, cut the outside flower and middle circle out of coordinating Lawn Fawn sheets. cut the remaining center circle out of your white card stock.

step 3 – punch the center of 4 petals with your hole punch. skip 1 petal, then punch the next 4.

step 4 – using two Copic marker colors per stamp, color the back of the stamp. before stamping, "color" an area of the white paper with your copic blending marker - this will reactivate the ink and allow the stamp to print.

step 5 – tape all 3 paper layers together to hold in place.

step 6 – wrap 2 yard lengths of twine and string ends through punched holes.

step 7 – with remaining 1 yard of red baker's twine, wrap your fabric like you are wrapping a present. punch the two remaining petals of your paper, pull ends of twine through these holes and time in a bow on top of paper flower.

step 8 – deliver to your favorite fabric loving birthday girl for a one of a kind gift!
