

CITY OF NATALIA

EMPLOYMENT APPLICATION

An Equal Opportunity Employer

PLEASE READ CAREFULLY

1. Type or print clearly all answers in INK.
2. Complete all sections. Resumes and support documents may be attached.
3. Be accurate. Any false statements may be grounds for the disqualification of applicant or the loss of subsequent employment.
4. The City of Natalia requires a pre-job offer drug screening test and a post-hiring medical examination. The results of this medical examination will not be used to exclude an employee from his or her position, unless the results reveal the employee does not satisfy the employment criteria for the position and the City cannot provide reasonable accommodation which will allow the employee to perform the essential functions of the position.
5. All employees serve a minimum of three (3) months training and evaluation period, subject to the discretion of the City of Natalia and if during this training and evaluation period it is found the employee is not performing to the expectations of the City, the employee may be dismissed.
6. Some positions, because of the nature of their responsibility, may be classified essential and have a specified response time to report to work or have assigned duties to perform in connection with a general emergency, and these employees may be required to be available before, during and/or immediately after a general emergency situation, (i.e. a flood or other disaster, etc.).

JOB APPLICANT'S AGREEMENT AND CERTIFICATION

I certify that the information given by me in the application is true in all respects, and I agree that if the information given is found to be false in any way, it shall be considered sufficient grounds for denial of employment or discharge. I authorize the use of any information in this application to verify my statements, and I authorize my past employers, all references and any other persons to answer all questions asked concerning my ability, character, reputation and previous employment record. I release all such persons from any liability or damages on account of having furnished such information.

I understand that nothing contained in this employment application or in the granting of an interview is intended to create an employment contract between the City of Natalia and me for either employment, or for the providing of any benefit. No promises regarding employment have been made to me, and I understand that no such promise or guarantee is binding upon the City of Natalia unless made in writing. If an employment relationship is established, I understand that I have the right to terminate my employment at any time and that the City of Natalia retains the same right.

I understand that prior to being offered employment with the City of Natalia I will be tested for use of illegal drugs and after a job is tendered to me, I must undergo a medical examination, if the position for which I am applying for requires same. In the event I have a disability that will affect my ability to take these tests, I will so inform the City of Natalia prior to the administration of the tests so that a reasonable accommodation can be made. Requested accommodations may include accessible testing sites, modified testing conditions and accessible testing formats. The City of Natalia reserves the right to require medical documentation concerning the need for the accommodation.

If you are considering employment with the City of Natalia you must complete the Fair Credit Reporting Act Disclosure and Authorization form attached if you wish to be considered. Please read the notice carefully, and sign in the appropriate place. We will only check your credit history if you are seriously considered for hire. If you bring your driving record, criminal history and credit report with you, it may expedite the process, but you will still need to sign the attached form.

I understand that if employed, policies and rules that are issued are not a contract of employment and that the employer may revise policies or procedures, in whole or in part, at any time.

I understand that this application will be kept on active file for six (6) months from the date upon which it is signed by me, after which I would have to reapply for employment in accordance with established City procedures.

FAIR CREDIT REPORTING ACT DISCLOSURE AND AUTHORIZATION

As an applicant or during the course of you employment with the City of Natalia, you are a “consumer” with rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act (the “FCRA”). This Disclosure and Authorization is provided to summarize you rights under the FCRA and to confirm your consent to allow the City of Natalia to obtain information regarding your credit history and possibly other information on your background such as you motor vehicle records and any criminal records for the purpose of considering you for employment or for continued employment.

PLEASE NOTE: THIS AUTHORIZATION IS TO OBTAIN YOUR CREDIT RECORDS AND POSSIBLY MOTOR VEHICLE AND CRIMINAL RECORDS, WHICH THE FCRA DEFINES AS “CONSUMER RECORDS.”

The FCRA gives you specific rights designed to promote accuracy and fairness in consumer reports, as well as privacy of information than is to be used only for permitted purposes. Motor vehicle records and criminal background checks are “consumer reports.” The FCRA permits the City of Natalia to obtain a consumer report from a consumer reporting agency for the purpose of (1) considering your application for employment; (2) making a decision whether to offer you employment; (3) deciding whether to continue your employment, if you have already been hired; or (4) making other employment decisions related directly to you. The only consumer reports the City of Natalia will consider in making such decisions are your credit reports and possibly motor vehicle records and your criminal background checks.

Generally, your rights under the FCRA include (1) your right to be told if information from a consumer report is being used against you, together with contact information about the consumer reporting agency that provided the report; (2) your right to find out what is in your file with the consumer reporting agency, including who has requested information from your file; (3) your right to dispute inaccurate information with the consumer reporting agency; (4) your right to seek damages from violators of the FCRA. You may request, in writing, additional disclosures regarding the nature and scope of any investigation requested and a written summary of your rights under the FCRA.

AUTHORIZATION

By signing below, I, _____, hereby voluntarily authorize the City of Natalia to obtain either a consumer report or an investigative consumer report about me from a consumer reporting agency and to consider this information when making decisions concerning my employment with the City of Natalia. I understand that the City of Natalia may obtain such reports at various times throughout my employment for the purposes set forth above in this disclosure, including the evaluation of my eligibility for employment or continued employment. I understand that I have rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act and acknowledged receipt of the Disclosure set forth above.

A SUMMARY OF YOUR RIGHTS Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act

The Federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) is designed to promote accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of every "Consumer Reporting Agency" (CRA). Most CRA's are credit bureaus that gather and sell information about you --- such as if you pay your bills on time or have filed bankruptcy- to creditors, employers, landlords, and other businesses. You can find the complete text of the FCRA, 15USC §§ 1681- 1681u, at the Federal Trade Commission's web site (<http://www.ftc.gov>). The FCRA gives you specific rights, as outlined below. You may have additional rights under state law. You may contact a state or local consumer protection agency or a state attorney general to learn those rights.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you. Anyone who uses information from a CRA to take action against you – such as denying an application for credit, insurance, or employment – must tell you, and give you the name, address, and phone number of the CRA that provided the consumer report.
- You can find out what is in your file. At your request, a CRA must give you the information in your file and a list of everyone who has requested it recently. There is no charge for the report if a person has taken action against you because of information supplied by the CRA, if you request the report within 60 days of receiving notice of the action. You are also entitled to one free report every twelve months upon request if you certify that (1) you are unemployed and plan to seek employment within 60 days, (2) you are on welfare, or (3) your report is inaccurate due to fraud. Otherwise, a CRA may charge you up to eight dollars.
- You can dispute inaccurate information with the CRA. If you tell a CRA that your file contains inaccurate information, the CRA must investigate the items (usually within 30 days) by presenting to its information source all relevant evidence you submit, unless your dispute is frivolous. (The source must advise national CRA's – to which it has provided the date – of any error). The CRA must give you a written report of the investigation and a copy of your report if the investigation results in any change. If the CRA's investigation does not resolve the dispute, you may add a brief statement to your file. The CRA must normally include a summary of your statement in future reports. If an item is deleted or a dispute statement is filed, you may ask that anyone who has recently received your report be notified of the change.
- Inaccurate information must be corrected or deleted. A CRA must remove or correct inaccurate information or unverified information from its files, usually within 30 days after you dispute it. However, the CRA is not required to remove accurate data from your file unless it is outdated (as described below) or cannot be verified. If your dispute results in any change to your report, the CRA must give you a written notice telling you it has reinserted the item. The notice must include the name, address and phone number of the information source.
- You can dispute inaccurate items with the source of the information. If you tell anyone – such as a creditor who reports to a CRA – that you dispute an item, they may not then report the information to a CRA without including a notice of your dispute. In addition, once you've notified the source of the error in writing, it may not continue to report the information if it is in fact, an error.
- Outdated information may not be reported. In most cases, a CRA may not report negative information that is more than seven years old; ten years for bankruptcies.
- Access to your file is limited. A CRA may provide information about you only to people with a need recognized by the FCRA – usually to consider an application with a creditor, insurer, employer, landlord, or other business.

- Your consent is required for reports that are provided to employers or reports that contain medical information. A CRA may not give out information about you to your employer, or prospective employer, without your written consent. A CRA may not report medical information about you to creditors, insurers, or employers without your permission.
- You may choose to exclude your name from CRA list for unsolicited credit and insurance offers. Creditors and insurers may use file information as the basis for sending you unsolicited offers of credit or insurance. Such offers must include a toll-free phone number for you to call if you want your name and address removed from future lists. If you call, you must be kept off the lists for two years. If you request, complete, and return the CRA form provided for this purpose, you must be taken off the lists indefinitely.
- You may seek damages from violators. If CRA, a user or (in some cases) a provider of CRA data, violates the FCRA, you may sue them in a state or federal court.
