

Bridge Week at Millpond Plantation

Featuring Robert Todd

Millpond Plantation, located in charming Thomasville, Georgia, is the perfect venue for bringing together Robert Todd, bridge instructor extraordinaire, with a small intimate group of bridge enthusiasts. You will get to know Robert well, gain significant insight about bridge strategy and concepts while enjoying friends in a calming, tranquil and magnificent historical setting.

About Robert Todd

Robert Todd is a world renowned bridge instructor. He is considered to be one of the top bridge teachers in North America and has had the good fortune of being mentored by Audrey Grant, Barbara Seagram and Larry Cohen. Robert travels all over the world teaching and playing bridge. He has finished in the Top 20 on Barry Crane's Top 500 list multiple times over the last decade. Prior to pursuing his career in bridge, he excelled as a software engineer and university level math instructor. His success as an elite bridge instructor is a result of his passion for the game, combined with his in-depth mathematical knowledge and teaching experience.

About Millpond Plantation

Millpond, a 38,000 square-foot Mediterranean villa, is a private family estate listed on the National Register of Historic Places. As Conde Nast Travel states, "Century Old Millpond Plantation is the Height of Southern Charm." In 1903, as an heir of the founder of Western Union, Jephtha Wade II decided to create a warm welcoming spot for the family to gather for generations to come. Millpond is just that --- a tranquil place where families and friends gather to escape the everyday noises of life. The family is now extending an invitation for bridge students to enjoy a unique experience at this magnificent 7,000 acre estate.
