Our Children's Bell Choir will be playing during our worship service today.

We look forward to listening to this wonderful addition to our service.

9 a.m. Pastor Class—Sunday Mornings

Join Rev. Dannison for a time of spirit-filled (and spirited) conversation on Sunday mornings before worship. Each Sunday we will gather in the conference room (just behind the sanctuary) for a brief presentation and conversation about some of the more challenging aspects of our faith, traditions, and history. Bring your doubts and challenges! Join a lecture/discussion series on pressing social issues and the history and future of Christian thought. 30 minute lecture followed by a brief discussion. Choir members will be dismissed on time for worship.

This class is open to everybody. You are not required to attend every session - come as frequently or infrequently as you're able. Simple breakfast snacks and food provided.

Feel free to recommend a discussion topic to Nathan by emailing him at pastor@stjohnsuccgr.org or texting him at 269.547.9622

Fellowship has begun planning for the Mother's Day brunch buffet. We are in need of volunteers to help set up for the buffet on May 11 at 4:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. There will be gluten free and vegetarian options available. Fellowship Hall will be all set in anticipation of the event—but we need some volunteers to help in the kitchen (getting the hot entrees ready and then getting the food onto the buffet table when the brunch begins. No special kitchen skill is required.

We also need some help cleaning up, bussing tables, cleaning dishes, and loading the dishwasher. Again, no special skill is required and a hardy apron will be supplied. Any questions, please see Dave B. or Todd Krupp.

Wednesday Evening Prayer/Discussion Offered

Join us for our Evening Prayer Service on Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. via Zoom. It's an opportunity to share joys and concerns, pray together and catch up with each other in the middle of the week. Outstanding sacred music is included.

8:00—9:00 p.m.—Podcast and discussion of the story of Jonah from the Hebrew Bible featuring Marcus Little. We will listen to Marcus' podcast and then discuss the content. Both Wednesday evening opportunities use the same Zoom connection. For the link, see the weekly email to members or the calendar at the St. John's home page stjohnsuccgr.org.

Bernstein's Mass at Fountain Street Church

The Fountain Street Church Choir would like to invite the members of your community to our upcoming production of Leonard Bernstein's Mass: A Theatre Piece. I have attached a document with more information that you can draw from to share with your congregants.

We are very excited about this production and its relevance for these challenging times we are facing as faith-based organizations. We appreciate any ways you can share this with your community – newsletters, social media, announcements -- and hope many of you will be in the audience on April 27th. As noted in the banner, there is no charge to attend.

With gratitude,
Meredith Bradley

Street Church's annual Memorial Concert this year. Mass: A Theatre Piece for Singers, Players and Dancers requires two adult choirs and a children's choir, dancers and a chamber orchestra. In addition to the Fountain Street Church Adult Choir, performers will include the Aquinas College choirs and singers recruited from the West Michigan Opera Project and the community along with dancers from the Deos Contemporary Ballet and a 20-piece orchestra. Fountain Street and Aquinas Choir Director Austin McWilliams will conduct. The production is directed by Dr. Rachael Gates, soprano, opera director and instructor of voice and pedagogy at Grand Valley State University. Ballet choreography is by Deos Artistic Director Tess Sinke.

The most important thing to know about Leonard Bernstein's Mass is that it isn't a Catholic Mass at all, although it is based on one. Instead, it's a wild kaleidoscope of music, dance and theater depicting a clergyperson's spiritual crisis when faced with young people's distrust of organized religion. The Celebrant, as the main character is known, played by Dominic Aragon, journeys through doubt, angst, and complete spiritual breakdown to eventually find peace, but only after a musical journey that evokes everything from a symphony orchestra to a marching band to a rock band and a jazz combo. In a program note from the premier, Bernstein called the piece a "reaffirmation of faith." McWilliams says, "Mass may have been ahead of its time when it premiered in 1971 but is finding increasing relevance now as faith-based organizations struggle for membership."

Commissioned by former First Lady Jackie Kennedy

Onassis for the 1971 dedication of the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C., Bernstein said at the time he had long wanted "to compose a service of one sort or another" and hit on the idea of using the Mass as a fitting form to honor the late President John Kennedy. Struggling to finish the piece on time, Bernstein invited Stephen Schwartz, composer and lyricist of the then-brand-new Broadway hit Godspell to collaborate on the text and music.

Mass has been performed many times, but the complexity of the production and some of the language of the text make it a rare choice for a church. It was last performed in Grand Rapids in 1994.

We are invited to join " Eastern Avenue Christian Reformed Church on April 21, 2024 at 4:30 PM, for a panel discussion among LGBTQ+ affirming churches from a variety of denominations in the area. We will spend some time listening to each other's stories and learning about how we extend hospitality to our LGBTQ+ siblings."

Heidi Armock will be serving on the panel. You are invited to support Heidi and our siblings in Christ as we continue to seek to be the "Beloved Community" that Jesus calls us to be. Our presence also will show our support for Eastern Avenue CRC as they seek to become more open and affirming. The church is located at 514 Eastern Avenue, SE and a light supper will follow the discussion. This meeting is open to the public, so please pass this information on to your friends and families.
