PRAYER SOUGHT FOR BRAZILIAN BAPTIST CHURCH

In what may be a first for Baptists in the country, Pinheiro Baptist Church in Maceio, Brazil, voted overwhelmingly February 28 to receive members regardless of sexual orientation through baptism, transfer of membership and acclamation. “In this way, the members present courageously decided in a historical manner that any person who confesses Jesus of Nazarene as Savior of their life, independent of their social, economic and sexual condition, will be accepted formally to membership in the church,” Pastor Wellington Santos said. Odja Barros, co-pastor of the church in Maceio and immediate past president of the Alliance of Baptists in Brazil, sought prayer for the congregation during a panel presentation on courage and hope at the 2016 Alliance of Baptists annual gathering.

Santos said the Brazilian church’s conversation about homosexuality goes back 10 years, when a member of the congregation declared his sexual orientation —“creating at that time discomfort for some and a challenge for others who beginning at that moment started to consider in prayer this issue in a more didactic and pedagogic manner. I believe that last Sunday’s decision points the direction for a community of faith called Baptist Church of Pinheiro, that vows to continue following what is, in a radical way and a more excellent way, that which is the way of love,” Santos said. For the complete story from Baptist News Global, go to <https://baptistnews.com/2016/04/12/brazilian-baptist-church-opens-doors-to-gays/#.VxAJQH1DoKk>. To extend your support, you may email odjabarros@hotmail.com.

PRACTICING RESURRECTION

Our resurrected Savior appears to his followers during a meal. They experienced resurrection in the breaking of bread and eating of fish for breakfast. Jesus also tells us post-resurrection people to go and feed others as Jesus feeds us. Jesus invites us to not only experience resurrection, but, to borrow a phrase from Wendell Berry, practice resurrection. We practice it in all kinds of ways, but the gospels emphasize that food is a central element of experiencing and practicing resurrection. So, we are utilizing one of the best of our many assets by sharing our Wednesday evening meal with others. The food is delicious, healthy, and plentiful gives many of us a welcome respite from our kitchen. Busy families need meal help, as do older people for whom cooking is a laborious chore. Others, I know, grow weary of eating alone. Let's go and feed God's people.

1. Think of somebody or somebodies who could use a good, home-cooked meal in the middle of the week.
2. Call and ask if they would like for you to bring them a meal on Wednesday evening, April 27. (The menu for the evening will be: lemon chicken, jasmine rice, steamed broccoli, garden salad and dessert.)
3. Tell us by the end of the day April 25 how many meals you would like to purchase the following week.
4. Pay for the meals ($7.00 each), pick them up, then deliver on April 27.

We will gather for our Wednesday evening Fellowship Meal as we usually do that evening. We will eat together. Then, following a brief time of prayer and sharing, we will disperse with meals in hand for delivery by 6:30.

Of course, if you just want to pick up a meal for yourself and/or delivery you can do so anytime between 5:15 and 6:30. Experience resurrection. Practice it too.

MAINTENANCE STAFF OPENING

In addition to readying the facilities for these programs, light cleaning, vacuuming, removal of trash, etc. on the main and lower levels of the building are required. The hours per week may range from 18-25+. If you or someone you know is interested in further information or conversation, please contact Bill Johnson at 502-896-4425 or cell 502-445-7616 immediately.
