

Financial Wellness

For you and your group

In these economic times, many people are struggling with money issues on a daily basis. From worrying about how to pay their bills, to believing they will never catch up financially while experiencing a constant concern about retirement.

Christine D. Moriarty has worked with thousands of people to create financial peace of mind. As a financial educator, she has shared her insights money matters in USA Today, Good Housekeeping, the Boston Globe, Better Homes and Gardens, Fidelity Focus Magazin, the LA Times and more.

"Christine gave us a chance to offer a wonderful benefit to all our employees- regardless of their title or position within the company. Her advice works for people of all income levels and financial involvement."

Carolyn Cooke, President/Founder of Isis

"Christine helped our attendees better understand their financial picture while providing encouragement and real-life ideas for their financial future."

Kim Ravdin, Owner, Champlain Dental Lab

Christine will work with your group or conference to provide:

- Tailored sessions to your organization
- Resources to keep your group on top of their financial life
- On-going tips to keep your attendees heading in the right financial direction

MoneyPeace offers several topics for your group or conference including:

- "ReStyle, Don't Retire"
- "Couples and Money: Facts Fiction and Feelings"
- "Beyond Retirement Planning: Money and Memory"

For more information about scheduling a

MoneyPeace session, contact

Christine@MoneyPeace.com

www.MoneyPeace.com

888-449-8081