PROJECT DESCRIPTION

On August 6th, 2010, the New York City Acquisition Fund LLC successfully refinanced the Urban Homesteading Assistance Board’s (“UHAB”) property located at 9 Second Avenue in Manhattan’s East Village. Through a joint venture with BFC Partners, the property became part of a new 12-story development comprised of 65 mixed-income condominium and rental units and 6,000 square feet of retail. Construction was completed on the development in April 2013; the building is now in its lease-up phase.

ABOUT THE URBAN HOMESTEADING ASSISTANCE BOARD

UHAB is a non-profit with more than 30 years of experience assisting low-income tenants to own and manage their housing, primarily through the creation and ongoing support of affordable limited-equity housing cooperatives. Today New York City boasts the largest community of low-income cooperatives in the nation, with more than 1,300 cooperatives housing 28,000 families. These cooperatives have been successful in providing good quality affordable housing to their residents, most of whom have annual incomes of less than $15,000. UHAB has played a key role in these successes by developing and providing a wide array of development, organizing, training, technical assistance, and emergency support programs tailored to the needs of individual buildings.
