A few words from our director:

Thank you all again for a fantastic February. Another February has come and gone. And again I am amazed by your dedication to your health and wellness. It is great to see so many swimmers who have been swimming in the challenge for multiple years, ex: Kent Price who holds a record from back in 1996. But it is great to see how many new swimmers join in the fun. I love hearing the stories from swimmers about their challenges, whether it be weight loss or a expose in the local newspaper or working hard to get in those extra yards to “beat” your fellow age-groupers.

We thank you for your adapting to our new ways of doing hosting the challenge and supporting our conservation of the environment. We are constantly striving to make it easy for you without having over utilize resources. We all know how important water is.

You all are fine examples of the unofficial US Postal Service motto (altered some): Neither snow nor rain nor heat nor gloom of night stays these swimmers from the swift completion of the February Fitness Challenge.

Thanks again and see you next year.

Jenn Pidkowicz

Please clap your hands for:

Katy Krupp at Elements Graphics: For giving a fresh and fun new logo each year. We think this is one of the best.

JD Pence: For these fantastic caps that we all collect

Brent Washburne: For giving us the opportunity to make registration more environmentally friendly

Tualatin Hills Barracudas Board: For hosting this tradition and promoting swimming as a means to exercise our bodies and minds.

Printing Solutions: For making results set in stone.

“80% of success is showing up.” Woody Allen

Maui swimmers (from top) Kim Harter, Laura Straight, John Wilson, Andrea Harris, Michael Unger and Cassie Mallen take part in the “February Fitness Challenge” last week at Upcountry Pool in Pukalani. The international event, conducted by the Tualatin Hills Barracudas of Oregon, “promotes fitness by encouraging swimmers to maximize their workout frequency and yardage during the month of February,” according to the club’s webpage. Clubs submit their workout tallies for the month, and are ranked in age divisions. Last year, Harris was the top finisher in the women’s 60-64 division, totaling 180,150 yards, and Upcountry had the seventh-best yardage (682,822) among all teams. “Most of us are sore and tired and thankful we are beyond the halfway point,” Harris wrote in an email about this year’s event JIM HARRIS photo The Maui Times Saturday February 21, 2015
