Dear Jean,

I sincerely appreciate you allowing Dr. Momeni to share your wonderful story and achievements for the Patients of Courage program. This special program enables ASPS Member Surgeons to honor exceptional people, like you, whose determination and compassion inspire them and so many others in your life. To commemorate this, ASPS would like to present you with the enclosed Certificate of Honor.

We will be prominently displaying your name during the Patients of Courage ceremony at Plastic Surgery 2010 in Toronto. In addition, the following four people will serve as ambassadors in Toronto and represent all reconstructive plastic surgery patients (read their stories on the other side): Saydee Robinson, Jason Schechterle, Marcus Engel and Donna Creighton.

Dr. Momeni's nomination speaks volumes as to what an inspiration you are to the people whose lives you have influenced. Therefore, we want your story to be recognized. In our continuing effort to educate the public about reconstructive plastic surgery; we would like to share your inspirational accounts with the public when opportunities arise. Thank you again for allowing your ASPS Member Surgeon to nominate you for this special program.

Sincerely,

Michael McGuire, MD
President, American Society of Plastic Surgeons
