42nd ANNUAL ATLANTA FILM FESTIVAL ANNOUNCES COMPLETE LINEUP

Diverse 10-day festival will feature record +200 films, talent appearances, educational workshops and special events

ATLANTA, Ga. (March 14, 2018) — The 42nd Annual Atlanta Film Festival (ATLFF) is pleased to announce the closing night and full lineup of film, educational and special programming, and events that will take place from April 13 – April 22, 2018.

Director Bo Burnham, the comedian known for his popular stand-up routines and YouTube career, will attend the Closing Night presentation of his new film EIGHTH GRADE at the Plaza Theatre on Saturday, April 21. EIGHTH GRADE joins ATLFF's previously announced Opening Night and Marquee presentations, including BLINDSPOTTING from 'Hamilton' actor and Tony Award-winner Daveed Diggs and TULLY from the Academy Award[®]-nominated director Jason Reitman.

With a record 7,600 film submissions received for the 2018 festival, the final lineup includes 58 feature length films and 150 short films from 56 countries – making this year's film festival the most diverse, by number of countries represented, and the largest, by number of films, in Atlanta history.

The ten-day event will delight festivalgoers with Opening and Closing Night presentations and galas, 10 Marquee screening events, 35 Creative Conference events, and more than nine Special Presentations. Before its official start, the festival will host a 2018 Kickoff Event on March 30 at 8:00 p.m. at the Rialto Theatre, where guests will be able purchase badges, individual tickets and official merchandise. Light snacks and drinks will be served.

Additional talent scheduled to make appearances throughout the festival include co-writer Rafael Casal (BLINDSPOTTING), actor/director Romany Malco (PRISON LOGIC) and actor Kiersey Clemons (HEARTS BEAT LOUD). Actors including Nick Offerman, Kiersey Clemons, Chloë Sevigny, Steve Buscemi, Charlize Theron and more will be represented in films from major studios like A24, Lionsgate and Focus Features.

Sporting nearly 50 films with production or filmmaker ties to Georgia, the 2018 fest will celebrate more than five decades of film and educational programming in the state. The Creative Conference, the five-day educational programming track that takes place annually during the festival, will also return with more than 35 panels, workshops, Q&As and more.

“The growth of the Atlanta Film Festival reflects the rising importance of Georgia’s film industry, and we’re proud to showcase that connection by hosting a record 49 films with Georgia ties,” ATLFF Executive Director Christopher Escobar said. “We are 100 percent committed to providing a unique festival experience that honors our roots and creates a diverse opportunity for filmmakers of all levels, while also displaying an important role that our city represents in the film and television community.”

The Atlanta Film Festival is pleased to showcase diverse feature and short films that connect audiences to filmmakers from around the world. This year, ATLFF will host the world premiere of seven feature-length films and more than 50 short films during the 2018 festival. In addition, 68 percent of this year’s selected submissions were directed by either a woman or filmmaker of color.

World Premiere presentations will feature films from ATLFF specialty tracks (New Mavericks, Pink Peach, Georgia-Made) with notable directors that include Noor Gharzeddine, Mason Rey, Takashi Doscher, T Cooper, Emelie Svensson and Karin Oleander.

Creative media – including virtual reality films, music videos and episodic content – will continue to have a role at this year’s Atlanta Film Festival with more than 30 additions to the schedule.

The Plaza Theatre and Dad’s Garage will return as official venues. New locations include the Hilan Theatre and the Rich Auditorium at the Woodruff Arts Center.

Festival badges are on sale now, and individual tickets will go on sale March 30. The Atlanta Film Festival is the annual centerpiece of educational and enriching film programming that is provided year-round by parent organization, the Atlanta Film Society.

Screening dates and times are subject to change. For a full lineup of films, or to purchase passes, please visit www.AtlantaFilmFestival.com/films.

2018 ATLANTA FILM FESTIVAL LINEUP

All updated dates, times and venue locations are highlighted below. If a selected film will be included in a specialty track or falls into a distinctive category, it is noted with brief designation following the synopsis. Films identified as New Mavericks feature a strong, female lead seen through the lens of a female filmmaker. The Pink Peach track shines a spotlight on LGBTQ narrative features, documentary features and short films. The CineMas track highlights Latin American films and filmmakers. Productions with an Atlanta and/or Georgia connection are noted as well.

OPENING NIGHT PRESENTATION

BLINDSPOTTING

Directed by Carlos López Estrada

USA, 2018, English, 95 minutes

Friday, April 13, 2018, 7:00 PM — Plaza Theatre

Collin (Daveed Diggs) must make it through his final three days of probation for a chance at a new beginning. He and his troublemaking childhood best friend, Miles (Rafael Casal), work as movers and are forced to watch their old neighborhood become a trendy spot in the rapidly gentrifying Bay Area. When a life-altering event causes Collin to miss his mandatory curfew, the two men struggle to maintain their friendship as the changing social landscape exposes their differences.

Lifelong friends Daveed Diggs and Rafael Casal co-wrote and star in this timely and wildly entertaining story about friendship and the intersection of race and class set against the backdrop of Oakland. Bursting with energy, style and humor, “Blindspotting,” boldly directed by Carlos López Estrada in his feature film debut, is a provocative hometown love letter that glistens with humanity.

Actors/Writers/Producers Daveed Diggs & Rafael Casal are scheduled to attend. Prior to the film, Daveed Diggs will be presented with the ATLFF Innovator Award.

What is a democracy? Across the globe, this heralded form of government is under attack by the very leaders it elected. In this groundbreaking documentary, we follow the crisis of faith in five different countries. From Hong Kong, to Tunisia, to India, to Japan, and even to the so called birthplace of democracy—the United States of America—what was once believed to be the pinnacle of human society is being torn at by hungry wolves seeking power and status for themselves. In the face of threats that come in the guise of friendly leaders, what can the people do to save their democratic freedoms? Can the tides be turned back, or is "freedom for the wolf" destined to bring "death for the sheep?"

USA, 2018, English, 52 minutes

Saturday, April 21, 2018, 2:30 PM — Hilan Theatre

Ingrid, a successful fashion designer and mother, dropped everything to create a new life for herself in the middle of the woods. Since then, she has carved out an isolated existence, surviving off her own wit and labor while creating art from the land she now calls home. But as Ingrid's past is uncovered in this meditative documentary, the question of what drives someone to leave a life of ordinary comforts to pursue a life spent in solitude comes to light.

MAN ON FIRE

Directed by Joel Fendelman

USA, 2017, English, 54 minutes

Wednesday, April 18, 2018, 8:00 PM — Hilan Theatre

Grand Saline seemed like your average small town in Texas until the day when Charles Moore, an elderly white preacher, publicly set himself on fire to protest the town's long history of racism. Catapulted to the spotlight by this powerful act of self-harm, the ordinary small town of Grand Saline was asked to address its storied past. What was recorded instead is a town's deeply rooted internal divisions and an overwhelming attempt to ignore and vehemently deny any wrongdoing by many members of Grand Saline's mostly white population.

Directed by Harriet Hirshorn

Burundi/France/Spain/Nigeria/USA, 2017, English/French, 67 minutes

Sunday, April 15, 2018, 12:30 PM — Hilan Theatre

For the past 30 years, women around the world have been on the move to tear down the forces that would silence them. Forgotten and overlooked in the global fight against HIV/AIDS, these women, particularly women of color, are fighting to destroy the myths and stigmas that surround this disease. Following the lives of present day activists around the world, this documentary charts the fight of women living with HIV/AIDS while also exploring the historical blind eye turned toward women during this long epidemic. Through education, medical and emotional support, and government action, these women will not stop until their voices are heard and HIV/AIDS is eradicated.

About the Atlanta Film Festival and Atlanta Film Society

The Atlanta Film Festival, now in its fifth decade, is an Academy Award-qualifying festival and one of the region's largest and longest-running preeminent celebrations of cinema in the Southeast United States. More than 25,000 festival attendees enjoy independent, animated, documentary and short films each year, selected from more than 7,600 submissions from 120 countries. The Atlanta Film Festival is the chief annual operation of the Atlanta Film Society (ATLFS), one of the oldest and largest organizations dedicated to the promotion and education of film in the United States, which enriches the community through screenings, classes, workshops and other events year-round. It is also the most distinguished event in its class, recognized as the 'Best Spring Festival' by Atlanta Journal-Constitution, 'Best Film Festival' by Creative Loafing and Atlanta Magazine, as well as one of the '25 Coolest Film Festivals in the World' by MovieMaker Magazine. Major funding for the Atlanta Film Society is provided by Turner, XFINITY, Delta Airlines, MailChimp and the Fulton County Board of Commissioners through the Fulton County Arts & Culture Department and the National Endowment for the Arts through the Art Works category. www.AtlantaFilmFestival.com
