Capital City Black Film Festival!

August 17-20, 2017 | Austin Convention Center – 4th Floor

Sign up to become a Capital City Black Film Festival Volunteer! It takes a great deal to orchestrate an event like CCBFF, and without volunteers, the Festival would not be a success. Listed below are several ways you can help a great cause and have a great time doing it!

Hospitality

You will set the tone for everyone's Festival experience by greeting, helping and directing our attendees. Provide customer service and general Festival information to attendees at designated locations.

Registration

Set up and organize registration area. Check in attendees and filmmakers, provide location information, sell film passes and check in other volunteers.

Floater

Volunteers in this role will be shifted throughout various positions to fill cancellations/no-shows OR they may be re-assigned completely to one role for the duration of the Festival if help is needed on that team. Floaters volunteers MUST be willing to do ANYTHING and be willing to rotate OR be re-assigned completely.

Screening Room

This team will help make sure the screenings run smoothly. You will check passes at the door, help with crowd control, assist the filmmakers inside the screening room and alert the staff to any technical issues that may arise during the screenings.

Merchandise

Help with set-up, selling and showcasing CCBFF merchandise.

Special Events

Work directly with CCBFF staff leading up to and through the weekend on several Filmmaker-only and general Festival events.

VIP Assistance

Work with staff to support our speakers and special guests throughout the Festival. This will include panel support, crowd control and being a runner for your assigned VIP. (Please note that not all who sign up for this role will be approved.)
